1999 Friends of Historic Hannibal Home Tour

Welcome to the Danielsons Family homestead. Jane and Peter purchased this home in April of 1984. The reason for the purchase was simple. Jane saw the front hall and said, "I want this house!" No need to look any further as far as she was concerned.

A check into the dusty records at City Hall, the Hannibal Free Public Library, and our title abstract lead us to the belief that the house was built during 1897 and 1898. We know that the house was here in 1899, as the structure is shown on the Sanborn fire insurance map of Hannibal of 1899.

The property was also taxed as having a house on it in 1899, but did not appear on the tax records in 1898.

Our abstract shows that Nancy Hogg, purchased the lot on which the house sits in 1896, and that she executed a deed of trust for $2,000.00 in 1897.

This leads us to the conclusion that she built the house during late 1897 and early 1898 leading to its placement on the tax rolls in 1899.

The adjoining property was owned by J.O. Hogg, an architect who designed several homes in this neighborhood, including the home at the corner of 10th and Center, the home at 1016 Center, the home next door (it doesn't exist anymore) and we believe he designed this home. This conclusion is due to the similarity in style to the other homes, and the fact that this house has a window over the fireplace. (The flue splits and goes up both sides of the window)

We really aren't sure of the architectural style of this house. Some references would call it a "shirtwaist style". Others tell us it is a Queen Anne style.

Perhaps the most famous residents of this home would be the Seibel sisters who owned this home from 1935 through 1984 when we purchased the home. Residents of Hannibal who graduated from the Hannibal Public school system prior to 1972 will remember them.

We have attempted to modernize our home without sacrificing the true character of the home. We have upgraded the kitchen, added a master bath, remodeled the primary bath, remodeled the half bath, rewired, modernized the plumbing, insulated, replaced the windows, and refinished the flooring. The homeowner has done all of the remodeling with much assistance from Peter's brother David and most recently, Randy Doty. This home is a good example of how you can do your own remodeling if you just have the nerve to just get in and do it.

As you go through the home please note the stained glass lights and windows, including a transom window upstairs. These pieces are recent additions to the home and not original. Peter has done all the glasswork in the last two years after Jane decided one winter that he was not removing any more plaster. Also on the landing to the staircase

Please feel free to ask questions regarding any aspect of the home. If we know we'll be glad to answer your questions.

Peter, Jane, Emily, Elisabeth Danielsons.

Front hall, front parlor & living room have original unpainted cypress woodwork. Upstairs woodwork had been painted & now is stripped of paint. Several rooms have replacement woodwork similar in style (if not wood) to the original woodwork

Marion County Court House

MA-AS-003-059

According to a dedication plaque the courthouse was erected in 1901.

There was some work done to the building in 1982. In 1990 there was a 10-year modernization and renovation plan began to the courthouse under the guidance of Architect Inc. and Martin Meyer A.I.A.

Bill Wolf from B & D Ceramic Tile did much work on the renovation.

A room by room account was done the following changes are as noted.

We did not have access to every room as a special note.

The N. E. doors were changed and made handicap assessable.

The front entrance doors and side glass are not original they are aluminum frame glass doors.

The lobby has approx. 4 foot high by 1 1/2-inch oak slats, which look to be original to the design. The original baseboard trims at the bottom. They stop before the staircase to go the 2nd floor.

The front entrance floor up to the staircase and including the second floor has new tile, in the pattern to match the old design, the material is non original. The 2nd floor surrounding the staircase and up to the bookcases is done in a matching pattern and color to the original ceramic floors on the 1st level.

The entry staircase is oak, the rail spindles are original, and a few pieces have been replaced. The steps have been covered with rubber covering, roughly 8 foot wide risers between steps are also covered.

Collector's Office

The collector's office has drop ceilings with 6 hanging fluorescent lights. The exterior aluminum storm windows are mismatched to the original pattern as is the balance of the building.

Two doors have been changed in the office but matched to the original. The old vault was removed for extension of the bathroom and elevator. The original counter was oak & possibly slate. It has been reconstructed and is now Formica, it does not conform in shape, style or wood as the original.

An elevator was installed the same time the collectors office was made smaller in a hallway room by the new handicap accessible restroom.

The bathrooms have been altered in size and made larger to accommodate the handicap assessable stall. They have quarry tile and are modernized throughout with new fixtures.

County Circuit Clerks Office

The Circuit Clerks Room has been modified with a drop ceiling, and acoustical tiles. Six florescent recessed lights have been added, for a total of 12.

The original counter with scrolls was retained however it has been altered. It has been cut down by approx. one half and moved to give about 6-foot addition space to the office. Two openings have been cut into the top of the counter to accommodate the computer equipment. The customer service wall was added.

Entering the small office, non-original aluminum door with windows on top and sides was changed; the 5-panel door was made to make look like original.

Large 10 foot by 6-foot oak befoiled doors were added to house the main computer terminal in the small office.

The 3 foot oak entry gate entering into the main office was removed and a full size door put in its place. The original oak office gate which is mission styling with 1 inch round ball and 1 inch strips separating is retained for later use.

A new fire safe door was added which was a window opening originally in the rear N.E. corner of the office.

Inside the vault, rolling files with rail system were added. Many years ago 2 windows were removed from the vault room.

The original vault door with cast iron decoration is still in place.

The original concrete floors are now covered with a variegated Berber carpet throughout this office except where the public enters to the counter.

Sheriffs Office

The 6-foot entry door and windows is reproduction to match the original.

Shelving was removed from the east windows & the windows have been put back to original.

The ceilings have been dropped with the acoustical tile, and 6 recessed Florissant lights.

The original vault with cast iron decoration is still in place.

There have been two holding cells added to this office. They have the secured doors with Kevlar windows for safety. One half of the old probate and judges office (north wall) has been taken for the addition of the 2 holding cells. There is an original 5-panel door that leads to the judges' office.

The old baseboard has been removed and replaced with rubber moldings.

New Formica topped L shaped 14-foot counter has been added.

Cameras and security system have been added.

Copy Room and Judges office

The copy room has the original vault with the cast decorations still in place.

The entry door to the copy room is original. The baseboard is reproduction to Look similar to the original. The entry door to the judges' office is new material made to look like the 5-panel original. The judges' office has original windows.

Assessors Office

The assessors office ceiling has been dropped with the acoustical tiles with a total of 10 recessed lights.

The original windows remain as do the original baseboards and the original 5 panel door.

Non-original to the room is a counter made of Formica and plywood which is not period.

Associate Clerks Office

The ceiling in the associate clerks office has been dropped with the addition of the acoustic tiles and recessed lights for a total of 10 Florissant lights.

The windows are original.

The door in the middle of the room is the 5 panel original however its placement has been moved from the north end of room to the south end of room.

The customer service door is not original.

A room has been added in the west part of the office for a judge's office.

The old hall has been combined with the associates clerks office with the other courtroom attaching on the East Side.

The doors leading into the large north end courtroom are original side by side doors. On that same wall the 3 windows are original as well as the half sphere stain glass ornamental tops.

The second story floor is surrounded by tall bookcases on all sides with the exception of the north wall entry and exit doors. Eight pillars line the walls to the top of an octagon shape, which starts the umbrella octagon shaped dome. There are 4 tiers in octagon shape which reduce their size following the umbrella dome to the top. An 8-panel octagon shaped dome made out of patterned stain glass is per say the crown of the dome.

We are unsure if the exterior domes cover is copper it appears to be made out of some kind of metal.

Main Court Room

Fourteen original (roughly) eight foot tall windows. There is a half moon sphere above each of the 10 windows, which have wood inserts. They may have been made from stained glass panels originally, this would have lent itself to the 3 stained glass half moons above the windows and doors on the south wall of the court room.

Before renovation started there was a dropped acoustical ceiling. Upon removal of the ceiling a highly ornate cross-beamed ceiling was revealed. Corinthian style decorations in the center of the running beams also have a round bead that border all the edges.

Ten pillars built off a wooden base, which matches the room's 4-foot wooden border, extend roughly 18 foot up the walls. All have a flowered and patterned rolling capitol in a ionic flavor.

The judges chambers were moved to a location adjoining the courtroom, it now houses the jury room. The door was relocated and is in line with the original jury box.

A four foot wood border with 1 foot by 20 inch square pattern border the walls throughout. The jury deliberation room also had a handicap accessible bathroom added.

Six hanging ceiling fans may have been in the same location as when the building was erected. There are 12 brass hanging umbrella type light fixtures from the ceiling. They do blend quite well with the room.

The original 26 inch high wooden banister or break separate the judge and attorneys area from public seating areas. Its style is close to the staircase but not exact in their cuts. Court records area in front of the judges bench was extended and new updated sound recording, computer plugs and overhead cameras were installed.

The judge's bench has a added 6 inch edging built up from the edges of the outer perimeter. Inside Kevlar was added for protection purposes. The judges' bench has a rounded backdrop, which extends roughly 5-foot back from his chair. Two ionic decorative scrolls adorn the walls at the start of the half moon sphere, which is the backdrop behind the judges' bench.

The doors in the room carry the 5-panel theme in regards to the balance of the building.

Judges Chamber

The old jury room was divided basically in half to form a new secretarial office and judges chamber. Doors were moved to satisfy requirements and a men's rest room was removed.

The judges chamber had a restroom which was converted over for his use. A reproduction door was added and follows the 5 panel theme of the doors in the building. A new half cut door was added to enter the secretarial office. A greenish Berber carpet covers the entire courtroom, the judges and secretaries office floors.

Basement

According to long term employees the basement level went through very few changes. For the most part it has dropped acoustical ceilings with Florissant lighting. Berber carpeting has been added in various areas, no attempt has been made for woodwork or door matching. County property records office is located in the southwest corner. None of the other rooms were made available for us to inspect.

The staircase leading down from the 1st floor is of the same style and taste as the other staircases and appears to be original.

Throughout the entire courthouse the heating and air conditioning has been modernized.

43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE: In 1922, a bond issue provided for this school to be rebuilt in 1923-25. It was dedicated Sep't. 25, 1925. It originally served 1st through 9th grades, but became an elementary school when a new Middle School opened in around 1958. The last day of school in this building was May 24, 2001. The building is now for sale, and students will attend a new Veterans School. A time capsule was opened on May 23, 2001 and contained many items of interest about the school, teachers, students, etc. The main history lies in the memories, stories, activities, etc. of those that taught there and of the students that have attended Central School for three quarters of a century. ## 906 Center Street - Central School

43 con't.: This was the neighborhood school and an important part of the social life of the neighborhood. This school was built on the site of the previous school building, which was built prior to 1890. Because this is a Wm. Ittner design - nationally recognized school architect - this building also has architectural significance. Because of the steeply sloping hillside, this design does not have the characteristic projecting wings at each end like other Ittner schools.

45 con't.: Additional sources of information were - Sup't. of Schools John Bringer, School Board member Henry Sweets, School Principal Beverly Walker, May 22 and May 24, 2001 editions of the Hannibal Courier Post.

a glassed-in porch added above the remainder. A two-story bay on the south side is topped by a gable. The southeast corner of the house is angled on the first floor with the corner of the second story overhanging. All four gables have paired attic windows. One-story gabled rear wing was added prior to 1929. Second story room over front porch added c. 1913-1924. Two-story garage and apartment was added in 1922, connected to house by a walkway from basement (non-contributing). Garage built to match house in style with gables and trim.

This house was built so that not a single room has only 4 walls except the butler's pantry. Posts holding up front porch were made of 4 solid cherry trees.

There was an old carriage house, but it fell apart. It was a two-story structure, with horses below, and carriages at street level.

Previous address was 317 Stillwell Place at times. Also see June 1979 Historic survey.

#44. (con't.)

Decorative iron fence along both street sides appears original (contributing).
Also see June 1979 Historic survey.
