42. Further Description of Important Features: The Williamson-Kennedy School is an eight bay, rectangular plan, three story brick school constructed in 1922. The school has a concrete foundation, flat roof of rolled roofing, and exterior of irregular course brick. On the main (W) facade the north and south bays project slightly from the main block and contain the primary entrances. Each entrance has an original concrete surround with Doric pilasters, a frieze with triglyphs and guttae, and cornice. Above the cornice is an open balustrade with concrete balusters. Both entrances contain ca. 1970 metal and glass double doors. Window openings have original soldier course lintels and brick sills, The windows themselves are ca. 1970 metal and glass design. Dividing the second and third stories is a soldier course belt course. At the third story level the windows are divided by paired brick Doric pilasters with concrete capitals. Above these windows are rectangular panels with diagonal brick coursing, jack arching and a copper cornice. The exterior stretcher bond brick is interspersed with header course brick. Windows on the side and rear facades have arched window openings with brick relief arching.

43. History and Significance: The Williamson-Kennedy School is a good example of a 1920s public school. The building has been altered with modern doors and windows but retains its original Colonial Revival influenced design. The building continues to be used as a public school.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story, three-bay, brick commercial structure build ca. 1915. The building has a concrete block foundation basement, tapestry brick wall treatment, and a flat roof. There are two storefronts, each having been altered c. 1960 with plate glass windows, metal and glass doors, and corrugated metal siding. Windows are original 1/1 wood frame sash. There are double fixed-light, wood frame windows in the first story on the secondary (S) facade. Openings in the basement have been boarded up. There is tapestry brick decoration at the cornice and surrounding the windows. Engaged square piers separate the window bays and are built up at the roof parapet.

43. History and Significance: This building is a good example of Tapestry brick designs of the early twentieth century. The building served as a music store and a candy factory for in the early part of this century.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This structure occupies a rectangular urban lot in a commercial section of the city.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One-story brick, 3 bay, Colonial Revival design public library built in 1936. The building has a concrete foundation, gable roof of asphalt shingles, and exterior of Flemish bond brick. The main entrance has ca. 1980 metal and glass doors. Over the doors is an original broken swan's neck pediment with an urn and dentils. Behind the pediment in an elliptical multi-light window with brick relief arching and a concrete keystone. Flanking the entrance are original copper and glass acorn light fixtures. The central entrance bay projects slightly from the main block of the building and at the corners of this bay are brick quoins. Windows on the main facade are original wood casement windows and have concrete sill. Above the windows are jack arches with concrete keystones. At the roofline is a bracketed cornice. The central bay has a pediment at the roofline and in the gable field is a concrete cartouche with an open book design.

43. History and Significance: This building was constructed in 1936 to serve as the Poplar Bluff public library and it continues to be used as the town's library.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in a mixed commercial and residential area of Main Street.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, 3 bay, asymmetrical plan, Queen Anne influenced residence built before 1895. The house has a brick and concrete foundation, gable roof of pressed metal shingles, interior brick chimneys, and exterior of stretcher bond brick. On the main (W) facade is a one-story full width shed porch with brick piers and a solid brick railing. The porch columns have concrete Doric capitals and the area between the brick pies has been enclosed with metal and glass windows and doors. The main entrance has an original Multi-light wood and glass door and rectangular transom. Windows are original 6/1 rectangular wood sash. The windows have concrete sills and soldier course lintels of yellow glazed brick. In the central bay of the second story is a small 4/1 sash window. Between the window bays on the second story are yellow glazed brick and concrete panels laid in diamond designs. At the eaves are large eave brackets. At the roofline of the main facade is a gable dormer with a stucco surface and Palladian motif multi-light attic window.

43. History and Significance: Despite the porch enclosure this residence is a good example of a turn of the century Queen Anne influenced brick house. The house was originally built by Harvey I. Ruth for one of his daughters and her husband. Ruth was president of the Hargrove and Ruth Lumber Company and the Dan River Railroad Company. He was raised by his uncle, W.H.H. Kinzer, who opened up the first mill of the Poplar Bluff Mill and Lumber Company.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential area of Poplar Bluff. To the rear is an original one-story brick garage with a hipped roof.

Stained-glass windows set in wood frame. The only addition is the new wing added in 1951 to original building. The original stone masonry and impressive architectural style make this building unique.				PHOTO MUST BE PROVIDED
13. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE The desire to build this church originated with a women's group, the St. Margaret Guild. The church building was constructed around 1902 and remained a mission church until 1951 when it became a parish in its own right. This building remained intact following the 1927 tornado. Throughout the 20th century, this church has played an important role in the spiritual life of many of the people in the City of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story, frame, 3 bay, asymmetrical plan Queen Anne residence built prior to 1895. The house has a stone foundation, interior brick chimneys, weatherboard siding, and gable roof of asphalt shingles. On the main (E) facade is a one-story shed porch which extends to the south facade. This porch has original Tuscan columns and a gable with square shingles over the entrance bay. The main entrance has an original single-light glass and wood paneled door. Windows are original 1/1 rectangular wood sash. In the north bay on the second floor is a decorative circular window. In the gable field of the main facade are square wood shingles and a Paladian attic window with diamond design upper lights.

43. History and Significance: This residence is a good example of the Queen Anne style and has not been significantly altered. Known as the Love house, it was also owned by John Stovall.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This residence occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential area of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, three bay, Foursquare plan residence built ca. 1910. The house has a concrete foundation, hipped roof of asphalt shingles, interior brick chimneys, and exterior of stretcher bond brick. On the main (N) facade is a one-story shed full width porch with both brick piers, short Tuscan columns, and a solid brick railing. The main entrance has an original single light glass and wood door. Windows are original 1/1 rectangular wood sash. Above both the door and windows are concrete lintels and the windows have concrete sills. Connecting the upper story windows are bands of yellow glazed brick and at the corners are tan colored brick quoins. Below the eaves is a row of corbelled brick. At the roofline are large hipped dormers with 1/1 rectangular sash windows with the upper light divided into smaller panes. The dormers also display diamond shaped wood shingles.

43. History and Significance: This residence is a good example of a brick Foursquare residence of the early 20th century. It retains fine brickwork on the main facade.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This house occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, five bay, rectangular plan, Craftsman style residence built ca. 1915. The house has a concrete foundation, gable roof of clay tiles, exterior brick chimneys, and exterior of textured stretcher bond brick. On the main (S) facade is a one-story full width porch with square brick piers and a solid brick railing. The square brick piers have corbelled brick molding. The east bay of the porch area is enclosed and constitutes an original projecting bay of the house. The main entrance has an original multi-light glass and wood door with flanking multi-light transoms. Windows are original 15/1 rectangular wood sash with brick sills and soldier course lintels. At the roofline are two shed dormers with three six-light casement windows. At the rear is a one-story brick wing.

43. History and Significance: This residence is an excellent example of the Craftsman style of the early 20th century. The house has not been altered and retains its original windows and clay tile roof. The house was built by George Hearne. A prominent business man, Hearne was Vice President of both the Hearne Timber Company and the Haag Land Company as well as President of Southern Tie Company. The house is still owned by his son, Frank Hearne, who is a prominent attorney in Poplar Bluff,

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This residence occupies a large lot at the corner of Main Street and Nooney Street. To the northwest of the house is an original one-story brick garage. This garage has a pyramidal roof of clay tiles, multi-light windows, and two pairs of hinged, multi-light double doors for auto access.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story frame, three bay, rectangular plan, Colonial Revival residence built ca. 1910. The house has a stone and concrete foundation, hipped roof of asphalt shingles, interior brick chimneys, and exterior wall surface of stucco. This stucco surface does not appear to be original and may have been added in the 1930s or 1940s. On the main (S) and east facades is a full width shed porch with original Tuscan columns and a solid frame and stucco railing. The porch is elliptical in shape at its corner. The west bay of the porch is enclosed for a sun room. This sun room has large single light fixed windows with eight light transoms. The main entrance has an original oval single light glass and wood door and single light transoms. Over the door is a leaded glass transom and corner lights. Windows are original 1/1 rectangular wood sash except for a single light window on the first floor of the main facade. At the roofline are gable dormers with arched 1/1 sash. The central dormer on the main facade has a Palladian window motif with a central arched window and flanking small rectangular multi-light windows.

43. History and Significance: This residence is a fine example of an early 20th century Colonial Revival residence. The house retains much of its original design although it appears to have been stuccoed during the 1920s or 1930s. The ~~house~~ is known as the Bacon House. Ms. Bacon helped to organize the Episcopal Church.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This residence occupies a large urban lot at the corner of Selma and N. Main Streets. At the rear is a one-story, two-bay, ca. 1910, servant's quarters residence which has a stucco exterior, gable roof of asphalt shingles, and interior brick chimney. The house retains original 2/2 sash windows and single light glass and wood doors. Also at the rear is a one-story ca. 1910 garage with a stucco exterior, gable roof of asphalt shingles, two light windows, and added doors.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES The house retains two original doors which have oval beveled glass. The front of the house has bay window first and second floors of brick. It also has a bay on each side of the house. The house has an original wood staircase that leads to a full attic. The three upper gables on roof contain pressed metal shingles. The original wrap-around porch is no longer existent. The interior of the house has also been extensively remodeled in the 1970's. The house also has an addition of a rear room.				5. OTHER NAME(S)
43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE The house is situated on a parcel of land obtained in a land grant by John Maleharn, a private in the War of 1812. Construction of the house began in 1910 by the owners CF. and RB. Thilman. The house was purchased by Willis H. Meredith in 1916. This house survived the tornado of 1927 without sustaining any serious damage. In 1931, Mary E. Winston acquired the house. In 1947, Myrtle Maine Winston Allison obtained the house. The house was given to the First Methodist Church in 1967. The church in turn sold the house to Keith Andrews in 1975, who sold it to Mr. and Mrs. William White in 1985. This house is significant in conjunction with the number of other important homes in the area. The number and age of the houses in the area make this a good area to be considered as a historic district.
44. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS This house is located in an older residential section of town amid a number of historically and architecturally significant homes.				RANGE

16. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES This house has a side and center chimney. At the ends of the house there are half circle windows. Siding has been added over the wood frame and the porch on the side of the house has been made into a roan. It has three inches of cork in the walls for insulation. The interior floorplan has only been slightly modified. Parts of the fireplace were brought over from Europe in 1936. It has a colonial front pediment.		27. OTHER SURVEYS IN WHICH INCLUDED None
43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE This house was built in 1936 by Roy Balount upon the site where the original house had burned. It is unique in that it is the only house known to have 3 inches of cork used for insulation. This house is significant also because it is one in a series of older homes on Main Street.		40. 42. Further Description of Important Features: Three story brick, eight bay, rectangular plan, apartment building constructed ca. 1925. The building has a concrete foundation with a full basement, flat roof of rolled roofing, and exterior of stretcher bond brick. On the main (W) facade is a partial width one-story shed porch with ca. 1970 wrought iron columns and railing. The main entrance has an original multi-light glass and wood door, two light sidelights and nine light transom. Windows are original 1/1 rectangular wood sash with the exception of windows in the south bay. These window openings are located at the corner of the building and contain multi-light metal casement windows. Over the windows are ca. 1960 added metal awnings. The windows have concrete sills and lintels of soldier course brick. Above the third story windows are several rows of soldier course and corbelled brick, and a concrete belt course. At the roofline is a flat parapet and concrete coping. On the north facade is a one-story ca. 1960 added brick wing.

43. History and Significance: This building appears to have been constructed as an apartment building is the largest apartment house built in Poplar Bluff before 1940 which remains.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One and one-half story, four bay, rectangular plan Queen Anne/Colonial Revival influenced residence built ca. 1905. The house is of rock faced hollow core concrete block construction on the first story and of frame construction on the second story. The house has a foundation of smooth poured concrete, interior brick chimneys, pyramidal roof of asphalt shingles, and exterior of rock faced hollow core concrete. On the main (W) facade is a one-story full width incised porch with paired Tuscan columns on hollow core concrete piers. Between the piers is an open weave brick railing. The main entrance has an original oval single light glass and wood door. A secondary entrance in the north bay has a similar door. Windows are original 1/1 rectangular wood sash with concrete sills and lintels. Above the porch on the main facade is a frieze with square and hexagonal wood shingles. This wood shingle pattern is repeated in the gable fields on the upper half-story. The house has wide eaves and prominent gable dormers with paired 1/1 sash windows at the roofline.

43. History and Significance: This residence was built in the early 20th century and was the center of a farm on the northern edge of Poplar Bluff. The house is one of only a few farmhouses which remain within the limits of Poplar Bluff.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This house occupies a large rectangular urban lot in a suburban section of Poplar Bluff. To the south and east of the house are two outbuildings: 1. a one-story brick well house with a pyramidal roof; 2. a one-story ca. 1905 frame shed with a shed roof. In front of the house at the road is a concrete retaining wall. Also to the south is a carriage house which was independently surveyed.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story frame, two bay, rectangular plan vernacular carriage house built ca. 1905. The building has a brick foundation, hipped roof of asphalt shingles, and exterior of shiplap siding. On the main (W) facade is a large rectangular opening for carriage and auto access. No door is present. Window openings are covered with wood panels or are missing their original windows. At the roofline is a hipped roof raised vent. A banked driveway of earth and brick leads to the carriage door entrance.

43. History and Significance: This carriage house is associated with the residence located just to the north. This complex of buildings was originally part of a farmstead located north of the city on N. Main Street. The carriage house is in poor condition but is reflective of an intact outbuilding of rural farms which are not within the city limits.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building is located on a large urban lot on N. Main Street in a suburban area of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, five bay, rectangular plan commercial building constructed after 1928. The building was designed with Colonial Revival detailing and occupies a lot at the corner of Main and Vine Streets. The central bay has a large elliptical window with a keystone and the original lights were replaced with metal lights ca. 1970. The entrance in the adjacent bay has a ca. 1970 glass and metal door and pedimented surround of concrete. This pediment is decorated with a cartouche and garland and swag design. This surround is also found at the window in the north bay of the building. Windows on the second story of the main facade have 6/6 wood sash with architrave concrete surrounds. Windows on the north facade facing Vine Street on the second floor are large elliptical lights in Palladian designs. These windows have concrete surrounds and keystones. Other windows on this floor are 1/1 rectangular sash and 1/1 rectangular sash windows are also located on the third story. These third story windows are paired with concrete sills. At the roofline of the main facade is a frieze inscribed "State Bank" above which is a blind balustrade, acroterion and volutes.

43. History and Significance: The State Bank was built after 1928 and is presently the Commerce Bank of Poplar Bluff.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: The building occupies a corner lot at Vine and S. Main Street in the commercial section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, Tapestry Brick, commercial building constructed 1928. The building has two storefronts on the main facade and 12 bays of windows on the second story. Both storefronts were altered ca. 1950 with similar materials including terrazzo bulkheads and double doors of metal and glass. Some of the original display windows survive with copper muntin bars. Across the storefront is a ca. 1960 metal awning. In the south bay of the first floor is an original door opening leading to a second story staircase. The original door has been replaced with a ca. 1960 metal and glass door but the original surround remains. This surround is of terra cotta and has a cornice and flanking Doric pilasters. Above the storefront is a brick frieze panel with a rectangular band of terra cotta panels. These panels have pellet molding. The second story has an exterior of yellow wire brick laid in stretcher bond. Windows are original rectangular 1/1 sash with stone sills. Above the windows is a belt course of terra cotta and above this Belt course is a terra cotta cornice with floral decoration. At the roofline is a stepped parapet with terra cotta coping and the north and south bays have slight gables with quatrefoil terra cotta panels. The interior has been remodeled.

43. History and Significance: This two-story building was constructed ca. 1928, after the original building was destroyed by the tornado. This building was used for commercial purposes on the first floor and offices on the second floor. It is a good example of an early 20th century commercial building.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: The building occupies a rectangular urban lot in the older commercial section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, 6 bay, rectangular plan commercial building constructed ca. 1895-1901. The building has two storefronts on the main facade both of which were altered in the mid-20th century. The north storefront has a surround of Carrara glass added ca. 1940 and curved display windows. The south storefront was altered ca. 1970 with modern materials. The central bay of the storefront contains an original door opening leading to the second story and has a ca. 1970 wood door. The upper facade retains much of its original design and has six arched windows. These window openings have been covered with plywood. Above the windows is brick relief arching and each arch is connected by brick with yellow glazing. At the roofline is a corbelled brick cornice. The interiors of both storefronts have been remodeled. History and Significance: This commercial building was constructed ca. 1895-1901 and retains much of its upper facade appearance. Although altered on the storefront, the building is a good example of an early 20th century commercial building.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in the older commercial area of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One-story brick, 2 bay, rectangular plan commercial building constructed ca. 1895-1901. The building has two storefronts, both of which were remodeled ca. 1970. The upper facade has a partial sheathing of Carrara glass which is in poor condition. Above the glass are two cast concrete cornices. Above the cornices is a brick exterior of stretcher bond with inlaid brick in diamond patterns. In the center of the upper facade is a concrete panel inscribed "Hecht Building". At the roofline is a stepped parapet with concrete coping.

43. History and Significance: The building was constructed ca. 1895-1901 and was originally known as the Hecht Building.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in the commercial area of Poplar Bluff.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES Entrance has pilaster of Corinthian columns. The shape is unusual in Poplar Bluff. The entrance constitutes one of the five sides but is only 8 feet wide. The top of the building is framed in common brick motif. The building retains original vault of the Bank of Poplar Bluff. Additions include modern windows which detract from the original building.		PHOTO MUST BE PROVIDED		5. OTHER NAME(S)
43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE The building belonged to Lincoln Investment Company. It was built around 1900. In 1902, the two story brick building with basement was rented by the State Bank of Poplar Bluff. One room in the building was rented by the Postmaster General. State Bank purchased the building in 1903 from Lincoln Investment. The first bank robbery in 1905 was by Will Mauch. In 1944, the City of Poplar Bluff bought the building to house City Light and Water. It is still occupied by City Light and Water.				6. TOWNSHIP

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, rectangular plan commercial building constructed ca. 1901-1910. The building has a chamfered corner entrance which contains a ca. 1960 metal and glass door. Flanking the door are original engaged stone columns with Corinthian motif capitals. The flanking storefront bays have been altered with ca. 1970 metal and glass display windows and the original bulkheads have been removed. Transom areas above the storefronts have been covered with metal panels. Across the storefront is a ca. 1970 metal awning. Above the storefront level is a brick belt course. The second story has original window openings with stone lintels and sills. The original windows have been removed and replaced with ca. 1960 fixed metal windows. At the roofline is an original corbelled brick cornice. The interior has been remodeled.

43. History and Significance: This building was constructed ca. 1901-1910 but has had its original storefront altered as well as upper facade windows. The original form and plan remains intact despite these alterations.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in the older commercial area of Polar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One-and-one- half story, three-bay frame bungalow built ca. 1915. The gable roof is covered with asphalt shingles and an interior stuccoed chimney and the foundation is concrete. The primary entrance in the main (S) facade has an oval light glass and wood door. The windows in the main facade are 5/1 glass and wood sash. The walls are clad with weatherboard siding. There is a gable dormer with three, 4/1 light vertical sash windows on the main facade. The incised porch is supported by battered wood columns on wood piers with a turned spindle balustrade. The eaves of the porch, roof and dormer are bracketed with knee braces and the rafters are exposed. The cheekwalls of the concrete steps are stone. Wood lattice panels hide the raised basement.

43. History and Significance: The house is an example of a rural bungalow that is now encompassed within the city limits.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential section of Poplar Bluff. To the east of the house is a three-bay frame and stucco garage with original ca. 1915 wood and glass doors. The roof is hipped with a decorative cupola. West of the house is a ca. 1930 frame guesthouse on a concrete foundation with a gable roof.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One-story brick, rectangular plan, five bay service station built ca. 1925. The building has a concrete foundation, flat roof with rolled roofing, and exterior of stretcher bond brick. The original section has a chamfered corner entrance with an original single light glass and wood door. Above the door is an elliptical transom with brick relief arching. Flanking the entrance are large display windows resting on concrete bulkheads. The window on the west facade has a large rectangular transom. At the roofline of the central bay is a stepped parapet with a curvilinear gable peak. Over the south and west storefront bays are shed roof canopies at the roofline with clay tile roofs. The east bays of the original section have original garage door openings with ca. 1980 sliding overhead doors. On the east facade is also a two bay ca. 1950 concrete addition with ca. 1980 sliding overhead doors.

43. History and Significance: This building is a fine example of a Spanish Mission influenced service station of the early 20th century. This service station is one of only two early 20th century gas stations inventoried in Poplar Bluff which retain original detailing. The building is located on U.S. 60 which is a major artery leading into Poplar Bluff. The building is presently used as a produce market.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot in a commercial section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story, three-bay, frame irregular plan residence built in 1913. There is a central interior chimney and two exterior end chimneys in the cross gable roof. The house looks like it was originally an I-house, with the two-bay, two-story front wing added later. The house has a rusticated hollow core concrete block foundation and shiplap siding. The main entrance has nine lights in a paneled wood door. Windows are Six-over-six wood frame. There is a bay in the front wing with three matched windows. In the front gable field, there is a six-light fixed sash attic window. In the ell joint, there is a hipped roof porch with wrought iron supports on a concrete block foundation. The house has prominent gable returns.

43. History and Significance: The house is a well-preserved example of the 20th century vernacular style.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This residence occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential section of the city.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Three story brick, 7 bay commercial building constructed in a rectangular plan with Colonial Revival influences ca. 1910-1917. The building has a brick foundation, hipped roof of asphalt shingles, and exterior of stretcher bond brick. The storefront has been altered on the west and east bays with plywood enclosing these sections. The central bay retains an original single light glass and wood door above which is a single light transom. Windows on both upper floors are original 1/1 rectangular wood sash with stone lintels and sills. On the central bay of the main facade are original wrought iron balconies with concrete floors on both upper stories. Leading to these balconies are original single light glass and wood doors. At the roofline is a sheet metal cornice with modillion blocks. In the central bay of the main facade is a gable with a Palladian attic window.

43. History and Significance: This building was constructed ca. 1910-1917 to serve as a hotel for the city and adjacent railroad depots. The building was later known as the Ozark Hotel which operated in the building until the mid-20th century.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: The building occupies a rectangular urban lot at the corner of Poplar and S. 2nd Street.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, 4 bay commercial building constructed ca. 1924-1928. The building is of Tapestry Brick design and has an exterior of stretcher bond wire brick. The original doors on the storefront have been removed and replaced with ca. 1960 metal and glass doors. Windows have also been removed and replaced with ca. 1980 single light metal design. The storefront bays are separated by brick piers with concrete bases and simple capitals. Above the storefront is a row of soldier course brick. Above the windows on the second story are rectangular brick panels of soldier and sailor brick coursing and at the roofline is a row of corbelled brick.

43. History and Significance: This brick commercial building was constructed ca. 1924-1928 and retains its original upper facade detailing.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building is located on a rectangular urban lot in the commercial section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features:

43. History and Significance: Built in 1929, the DAR or Elks Lodge Building is an interesting example of the Colonial Revival style in the downtown section of Poplar Bluff. The building is not quite exuberant enough to be classified as Beaux-Arts but its elliptical windows and fluted Doric pilasters are good examples of Colonial Revival detailing. Alterations to the building's doors and windows in recent years detract from its original character.

42. FURTHER DESCRIPTION OF IMPORTANT FEATURES This building represents a good craftsman style home. It retains original wood floors and exposed beams in the ceiling of the house. The building has unique back to back fireplaces with original wood and mirror mantels. The doors inside the house have glass transoms present with each. This house also retains original sliding doors that close off the dining room. This door is composed of inset cut glass panels. The outside retains original style but with the addition of a porch/entranceway which could be easily removed. The house has a central vacuum cleaner and retains outlets in each room.				4. PRESENT LOCAL NAME(S) OR DESIGNATION(S) 5. OTHER NAME(S) 6. TOWNSHIP RANGE SECTION
43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE This building was probably built around 1917 with the original owner being Almon Ing. He sold the house to John N. Mason in 1925 who in turn sold it to C.D. McCoy in 1926 for $8,500.00. In 1944, Hugh P. Fulton was involved with the Ward-Fulton stores and was a wealthy business in Poplar Bluff. In 1977, Dr. Roderick C. Webb bought the house for $30,400.00. He sold the house to Ronald Cummings in 1980 who in turn sold it to Dean Amos that same year. In 1982, Loy E. Deem bought the house. He sold it to Thomas Young in 1986 who presently resides there. Historically, this house is part of the development of Poplar Bluff in the 1920's.
44. DESCRIPTION OF ENVIRONMENT AND OUTBUILDINGS This building is situated near the banks of the Black River in a residential area not far from downtown Poplar Bluff,

At the juncture of the first and second story overhang, there is a series of carved supporting brackets. The stone foundation supplied by a local quarry in 1909. The building has a rear addition. Original porch has been enclosed into a family room, and the front porch altered. It contains new federal style entrance. The home retains the original brick fireplace. It has modern siding but retains original wood and so is restorable.				5. OTHER NAME(S)
43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE This house was built in 1909 for a local lawyer by the name of J.A. Gloriod. He practices law into the 1920's. The home survived the tornado of 1927 without sustaining any damage. In 1931, the house was sold at public auction. The highest bidder was Poplar Bluff Loan and Building. In 1938, the house was sold to John Casey. He in turn sold the house to Lloyd R. Light in 1956 for $6,500.00. The house then sold to Marvin A. Dowd in 1964 for $7,000.00. In 1966, Paul Pulliam bought the house for $7,450.00. In 1975, Kent M. Ford bought the house. He sold it to Jim Roberts in 1983. The present owners, the Jordans, bought the house in 1984. This house derives significance not only from its early history but from the fact that it is in an area significant for residences built in the early 1900's.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One and one-half story, three bay, T-plan residence built of rock faced hollow core concrete blocks ca. 1910. The house has a brick foundation, gable roof of asphalt shingles, interior brick and stucco foundation, and exterior of rock faced concrete. On the main (N) facade is a partial width shed porch with ca. 1970 wrought iron posts and railing. The main facade has two primary entrances with oval single light glass and wood doors. Other windows are 1/1 rectangular wood sash. Over the doors and windows are smooth faced concrete lintels and windows have smooth faced concrete sills. In the gable field of the main facade are square wood shingles and a rectangular single light attic window. At the roofline is also a small gable dormer with a two light attic window. On the west facade is an added staircase which leads to the upper floor.

43. History and Significance: Despite alterations, this residence is a good example of hollow core concrete block construction of the early 20th century.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This residence occupies an urban lot in a residential section of Poplar Bluff. To the rear is a ca. 1970 carport.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One-story, eight-bay brick commercial structure built ca. 1905. The building is actually two buildings with four storefronts. The main section of the original building contains three storefronts, each with a large plate-glass picture window and door. Two of the doors appear to be original wood frame and full-length-glass doors. These two storefronts are divided by an original cast-iron column. The third storefront has been covered with corrugated metal and Carrera glass. The original window has been replaced with a larger plate-glass window, and the door is metal and glass. The second building holds only one storefront with a plate-glass window and metal and glass door. The two buildings are separated by square brick pilasters. There are metal awnings above three of the storefronts.

43. History and Significance: These commercial buildings were not damaged during the 1928 tornado. They are shown on the 1928 Sanborn map to be photography studios and offices.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This structure occupies a rectangular urban lot in a commercial section of the city.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story, six-bay, brick commercial structure built ca. 1905 on a concrete foundation. Second-story windows are original arched, wood frame 1/1 double-hung sash with concrete sills. There is decorative corbelled brick at the cornice. The exterior of the building is finished with stucco. The original storefront was altered ca. 1960 with Carrera glass panels, although the original form is still evident. The main entrance is through double metal and glass doors on the corner of the building. A secondary entrance of double metal and glass doors is recessed into the north facade. Both entrances have glass transoms. The original windows have been replaced by metal frame single plate glass windows.

43. History and Significance: The building served as a drug store in 1928 and is a good example of early twentieth century commercial architecture. It is one of the few commercial structures in Poplar Bluff that retains many of its original architectural details.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This structure occupies a rectangular urban lot in a commercial section of the city.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Three-story brick, rectangular plan, 6 bay commercial building constructed in 1908. The building was designed with Colonial Revival influences and has two separate store-fronts on the main facade. The store-fronts retain original cast iron columns and recessed entrances. The entrances have ca. 1960 glass and metal doors and the original bulkheads have been covered with metal panels. Above the store-fronts are 6 bays of original two light transoms. These transoms are separated by the full height cast iron columns. The upper facade has 6 bays of windows on each floor. Each window has a concrete lintel and sill and the original 3/1 vertical sash windows remain. Dividing each of the upper floor windows and at the corners of the building are brick quoins. Above the third story windows are blind arches with keystones. At the roofline is a sheet metal cornice with dentils and modillion blocks. In the center bay on the third story level is a datestone inscribed "Begley Block Erected 1883 Rebuilt 1908."

43. History and Significance: The Begley Block was constructed in 1908 with influences of the Colonial Revival style. Although the store-fronts have been altered the building retains its original upper facade design and decoration. It is one of the largest and most intact commercial buildings in the downtown area.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building is located at the corner of Vine and S. Broadway in the commercial section of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story, five- bay, brick commercial building constructed ca. 1905. Windows in the second story have been bricked in, but were originally arched. Some tapestry brick decoration below the cornice of the roof. The original storefronts were altered ca. 1960 with corrugated aluminum veneer. Three original cast-iron square columns remain on the facade. The base of each column reads "St. Louis Architectural Iron Company". The original windows and doors have been replaced with aluminum-frame plate glass windows and metal and glass doors.

43. History and Significance: This building is one of the few downtown structures that survived the 1928 tornado. The cast- iron columns are a unique architectural detail that is not often present in Poplar Bluff. The building served as a buggy repair and parts shop through much of the early twentieth century. The storefronts are presently vacant.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This structure occupies a rectangular urban lot in a commercial section of the city.

45. Sources of Information: Sanborn maps.

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story brick, rectangular plan commercial building constructed ca.1895-1901. The building is of Tapestry Brick style and has been altered on the storefront. The storefront has ca. 1970 metal and glass doors, display windows, and transoms. In the west bay of the storefront is an original glass and wood door which leads to a second story staircase, On the second floor are five bays of 1/1 rectangular wood sash windows. Two window openings contain paired 1/1 sash windows. The windows share a concrete sill and above the windows are soldier course lintels. Above the windows is a concrete sill and at the roofline is a flat parapet with concrete coping. The interior has been remodeled.

43. History and Significance: This commercial building has an altered storefront but retains its upper facade decoration.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This building occupies a rectangular urban lot at the corner of Vine and Moran Streets in the commercial area of Poplar Bluff.

42. Further description of important features: 2-story, brick and concrete, 5-bay Art Deco/Moderne commercial building constructed ca. 1930. The building has a concrete foundation, flat roof of rolled roofing and exterior of yellow wire brick. The building has a curved or elliptical wall at the SE corner. The main entrance has a ca. 1970 solid metal door but the original concrete surround remains, This surround has fluted pilasters and an incised panel over the door with Art Deco floral decoration. Windows are 2/2 horizontal wood sash with concrete sills and over the windows is soldier-coursing with red and textured brick. Bands of textured red brick are also located between each window bay. The central bay projects from the main block of the facade and the second story window has a surround of textured red brick. At the roofline is textured red brick and concrete coping. In the projecting bay is a concrete frieze panel with fluted and diagonal designs. At the rear is a large three story ca. 1970 brick addition.

43. History and Significance: The building is a good example of the Art Deco/Moderne style. X1

44. Description of environment and outbuildings: The building is located at the edge of the town's commercial area.

42. Further Description of Important Features: One and one-half-story frame and stucco two bay residence built ca. 1930 with English Cottage influences. The house has a concrete foundation, gable roof of asphalt shingles, exterior brick and stucco chimney on the main facade and exterior stucco surface. On the main (S) facade is a partial width shed porch with rectangular brick piers and a solid brick railing. On the main facade is a projecting gable bay with an arched opening. This arch has brick relief arching and is flanked by exposed brick bonding and stucco. This bay encloses the main entrance which has a ca. 1950 glass and wood door. A secondary entrance on the main facade has an original multi-light glass and wood door. Windows are original 6/6 wood sash. On the east facade is large window opening with structural glass blocks. At the roofline of the main facade is a small shed dormer with a fixed six light attic window and exposed rafters.

43. History and Significance: This residence is a good example of a brick and stucco English Cottage influenced residence and retains much of its original design.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This residence occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential section of Poplar Bluff.

The house retains a rear chimney. The front porch was destroyed in the tornado of 1927. This was rebuilt after the tornado. It has been recently modernized with the addition of modern glass and iron porch enclosure. The windows on the house have arched brick surrounding the top sills. An upper room in the rear of the house has been recently added on. The interior retains the basic floor plan and much of the original woodwork.		26. LOCAL CONTACT PERSON OR ORGANIZATION Ozark Foothills R.P.C.
43. HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE The house was built in 1883. A short time later, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Crowley from Boston bought the house. Mr. Crowley served as the City Street Commissioner. In 1927, the tornado took off the porch and the trees in the yard. The descendants of the Crowleys lived in the house until 1984 when it was sold to Eldon Nattier who converted it into a mortuary. It is currently owned by Larry Cottrell. This home represents one of the older buildings in Poplar Bluff.		27. OTHER SURVEYS IN WHICH INCLUDED None

42. Further Description of Important Features: Two-story, four-bay, brick and stucco, irregular plan residence built in 1892. The house has a brick foundation and a hipped roof with three hexagonal turrets. The porch has brick columns supporting a castellated roof baluster. The windows are sixteen-over-one and have been replaced by storm windows. There are windows on three sides of each of the turrets. One turret is located at the roof crest, while the other two are located at the roof corners.

43. History and Significance: This is one of the few high-style houses in Poplar Bluff, and one of the oldest homes in the city. It was built by H.D. Williams who owned a lumber company. In the early 20th century it was owned by Ezra Cox and by the Guirth family. The house has elements of the Queen Anne and Romanesque styles.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This residence occupies a rectangular urban lot in a residential section of the city.

42. Further Description of Important Features: The Kinyon School is a three-story, eight bay, rectangular plan school with Colonial Revival influences built in 1925. The east and west bays of the building project from the main block and contain primary entrances. Each entrance has an original concrete surround with architrave molding and cornices supported by short Doric pilasters. The entrances have ca. 1970 metal and glass doors. Above the entrances on the second and third stories are large window openings flanked by paired Doric pilasters. These pilasters have concrete Doric capitals. These and other window openings have concrete sills and soldier course lintels. The windows themselves are ca. 1970 metal and glass design. Dividing the first and second stories is a soldier course belt course and at the roofline are soldier course belt courses and a concrete cornice. Also at the roofline is a stepped parapet with inset concrete panels with open book designs. The central bays of the building have brick bonding with glazed headers interspersed with the stretcher bonding.

43. History and Significance: The Kinyon School was built in 1925 to serve as an elementary school for the students of Poplar Bluff. The school is a good example of schools from this period, however, the window and door alterations have resulted in a loss of its overall character. The building continues to be used as a school by the city.

44. Description of Environment and Outbuildings: This school occupies a large rectangular urban lot in a residential section of Poplar Bluff.
