44. (cond't) To the W are 3 outbuildings; a barn and a 2 gabled sheds. All have corrugated metal roofs and vertical board and batten siding. They are in poor condition.

43. (cond't) Little is known of Taliaferro's tenure, however, the Louis Taliaferro family as of c 1970 had in their possession a set of store books kept by the elder Taliaferro. The next owner was Squire Moore who operated the store under the name of Moore Merchantile Company, for many years before he sold a partnership to his son-in-law, J. R. Smith. Following Moore's death, a son, T. J. Moore obtained his fathers interest and sold out the next year to Smith. The last proprietor that operated the store until the 1940's was Warren Morris.

(cond't) so as to form pilasters. Windows are trabeated, 1-over-1, and shuttered; some are paired. Extending to the rear is a 1 story gabled ell with pent porches to each side. Both porches have ornate spindle frieze and turned posts. The house sits on a field stone foundation, however, the top leveling course is cut stone block with an ashlar face. On the interior the central hall has an ornate curving staircase with walnut octagonal newel. The spindle balustrade echos this form. Bullseye millwork appears in the 2 rooms of the ell; the front parlors have more delicate pressed wood corner motif. A built in, reach though cupboard is between the kitchen and dining room. In the dining room there is a chair rail with beaded wainscotting below. Beaded paneling is also used in the kitchen. Most interior doors are capped by transoms.

- 42. (cond't) It is heavily molded and has bullseye corner notifs. There are narrow molded panels below the attenuated, 2-over-2 windows which have trabeated exterior headers. The front door's top 2 panels are arched. Extending to the rear is a 2 room gabled ell. It may predate the front section as evidenced by the use of pole beams used for both ceiling and floor joists. The walls are timber frame. There is also a 6-over-6 window remaining in this section. To its S is a pent porch and small pent room.
- 44. (cond't) The cellar remains in beautiful condition, however the vertical board and batten gabled and pent shed which covers it is in very bad condition. The property fronts County Road O and faces E.

42. (cont.) Structurally this frame section is starting to collapse and has pulled away from the original cabin.

43. (cont.) log structure believed to have been the residence of "Grandpappy Walter Draffen", But unfortunatly no remains could be found.

> Note 2- The Kelly, N. Moniteau Township line runs N/S through this property. Although the structure actually sits a few feet in Kelly Township the majority of the land and the only existing outbuildings are in N. Moniteau and we chose to include it in that township.

43. (cont.) blacksmith shop, a sawmill, a shingle mill and an ice house. Because of this large concentration of commerce, Cotton was a gathering point for rural residents throughout southern Cooper and North central Moniteau Counties.

Following World War I, the mill entered a period of decline, both in the volume of business and the physical condition of the building. With the introduction of more efficient methods of flour production, the widespread acceptance of the automobile and the shift from small communities to more centralized centers of commerce, the mill was eventually abandoned. Today the building and machinery is a rare example of the commercial lifestyle of 75 years ago.

The area in which the community of Cotton and Dick's Mill developed is located in one the large valleys that were formed by the Moniteau River. The valley in which Dick's Mill is located was called the Nile Valley by early settlers from Kentucky and Tennessee who entered the area in the second and third decades of the nineteenth century. The Moniteau River begins as a number of small branches and springs in the western part of Moniteau and Cooper counties. It winds its way through both of those counties and empties into the Missouri River a few miles north of Jefferson City in Cole County. In the early part of the 1800's, sufficient waterflow existed for the powering of water wheels and the machinery of grist mills on the Moniteau River. In 1826 such a waterpowered mill was constructed by Edward Embry on a piece of property a quarter of a mile above the present mill site. This mill served the Cotton community until the outbreak of the Civil War when it was forced to close. During the war the mill was destroyed by soldiers resulting in the loss of the services of a grist mill for the first time since 1826 in the Cotton community.

In 1863 the present site of the mill was purchased by John M. Burris and then sold a year later to Adolph and Peter Dick who constructed the existing building that same year. ItIwas while under the ownership of the Dick's that the mill and the Cotton community flourished as a center of trade and included a post office and a public school.

When the original owner of the mill, John Burris set up his operations, he purchased a 45 horsepower steam engine from a ferry boat that had operated on the Missouri River. The engine was shipped by rail to Tipton, Missouri where it was brought by wagon to the mill site in Cotton. The engine remained in operation until the first part of the twentieth century when it was replaced by a 25 horsepower Bauer engine which waspowered with gasoline. The steam engine eventually fell victim to the scrap iron drives of World War II. The mill continued to operate with the new gas engine under the ownership of John Hall who had purchased the mill building and land in late 1930's although credit which was extended to the farmers in the area nearly broke the struggling Hall. It was not until World War II that the mill was finally closed for good with the shortage of silk screens for the bolters and equipment.

Since that time the mill building has stood vacant except for a small area which uwas used for baled hay storage. In October of 1976, Burl Long, and his wife Maylily sold the building to James and Nancy Martin, and Paul and Becky Bloch. May Long was the daughter of the last miller, John Hall. The present owners are restoring the mill to a condition that will closely resemble its state during the peak operating years of 1880 to 1900.

44. (cond't) Originally used as a residence it became a wash house and storage shed for Cornelius Ernst family and is now only used as a storage shed. It has a corrugated metal roof and was covered with clapboarding. Its stability is dubious; the logs are rotting badly and no effort is being made to preserve it. Plat maps indicate that this log structure was built between 1873 and 1877 by T. D. Byler. See attached for measured drawings and details.

- 42. (cond't) The later 2 story section has a wide entablature which rakes over the gable. wall dormer on the primary facade. This facade has a 1 bay proch supported on turned posts which affords protection to the entrance. There is a 2nd story entrance above it. Windows are 2-over-2 and trabeated. Two chimneys, 1 on each side of the hall, accent the roofline This section sits on a stone foundation. The stones have been quarried and are quiet large, some stones measure 3'6" X 1'4".

S & W. On the interior, the millwork is plain. (see reserve).

43 History and Significance The structure appears to have been built prior to 1897. A structure appears on the site in both the 1874 map of Cooper County and the 1877 Cooper County Atlas at which time the land was owned by W. E. Ogelsby and M. G. Stephens and was comprised of 111 acres. After 1877, Lee Arnold purchased the farm and his nearby farm worked a total of 191 acres. (see reverse).

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The residence sits back from the road facing N. A gravel drive gives access to it. To the rear is a root cellar with a gabled entrance and a cistern to the SW.

- 42. (condt't) There are no mantel the chimpey served stoves. The NE 1st story room has wainscotting of beaded tongue and groove wood panels.
- 43. (cond't) Arnold's son, Ira S. is believed to have built the present structure on the site of the original homestead. Ira Arnold was known throughout Cooper County as being the breeder of fine mules and jacks. The farm was retained by him at least until 1914. It then passed through two more generations of the Arnold family until 1948 when it was purchased by the present owners. Mr. & Mrs. Arnold resided in the structure until 1962 at which time they moved into their modern residence located approximately 250 feet east.

42. (cont.) The original section sat on stone piers, however a solid stone foundation was added in 1901. The structure is embellished by large corner end blocks, a raking cornice and 2-over-2 windows, trabeated and shuttered. On the interior, there is hand sawn flooring with a mud pack and wood slat sub-floor, an exposed beamed ceiling, and a boxed corner stair which retains its plank door. The interior door also a plank door, is 3 feet wide and is made of walnut. The frame section has a boxed stair which had an exterior entrance. (See attached floor plan for measurements and details).

43. (cont.) Between 1854 and the time of Dick's death in 1877 the farm was improved by the clearing of trees and the planting of corn, oats and wheat.

In 1878 the heirs of Adolph Dick sold the cabin and farm land of Fredick Schneider who married into the Strickfaden family, a large and locally prominent family.

In 1891 Schneider sold the property to Johannas and Sophia Kobel and John Ulrich Kobel, Swiss immigrants, who had arrived in Missouri in 1889. Oral history with Kobel's grandson William, indicates that the Kobel's chose this farm to settle because the Moniteau Creek and its surrounding hills were reminiscent of their origins in Switzerland. John Ulrich and Johannas and his children continued to improve the farm and may have been responsible for the planting of an apple orchard which was located to the Northwest of the residence. In 1901 a frame addition was constructed to the North side of the log structure which nearly doubled the size of the living area. Also in that year the exterior siding and stone foundation was added.

By 1934, John Ulrich purshased from his brother all of his brother interest in the residence and farm land, however the dwelling ceased to function as a residence by 1918. In 1938 John, William J. and Wilbur Kobel, respectively the son and grandsons of Johannas Kobel purschased the family residence and lands for their farming interests. In 1941, William J. Kobel purchased the interest of the others and became sole owner.

The Dick-Kobel cabin is significant as being a fine example of a German immigrant (Missouri-German) log structure retaining unique features not found in non-German log structure. Although not as old as other log structures in Cooper County this dwelling has been preserved and remains an exceptional example of log construction as practiced by early German immigrants.

43. (cont.) the pupils. The building was heated with a stove and always had an out house. Purchased by the Baptist Church it has now been converted into rental property, but is vacant at the present time and still is without the convinence of a modern bathroom. It was moved to this location early in 1980 so the new Baptist Church could be built.

43. (cont.) was changed to Pleasant Grove and was the name of the congregation. Here, the congregation constructed their first church, <sup>made</sup> of logs, later that year that year in 1857 the name of the congregation changed to Otterville Presbyterian Church when the town of Elkton changed to Otterville. In this same year the the congregation constructed their first church building in the city. Built by Milton Stark, it served them 53 years.

CP-AS-002-566

In 1909, the church trustees purchased the lots the present church sits on for $1,500. On the S.E. corner of these lots was the Arni residence, which became the manse. The contract for erecting the present church building was awarded to John A. Schroeder of Otterville at a cost of $4,400. The first service in the new building was held June 26, 1910, with Rev. C.H. Harrell as pastor.

In 1953 the basement was remodeled forming a kitchen, dining room and Sunday School rooms. A gas heating system was installed in 1955. Two years later restrooms were added. In 1965, the church sanctuary was remodeled.

(see photos) To the rear of this section is a 1½ story 1 room ell, which may be the original section of the house. It too is built of timber frame with pole rafters, but it has a stone exterior end chimney and a boxed stair in its SW corner. Windows are 6-over-6 millwork is plain, and the mantle repeats those of the front block. This mantle has been removed but is still in the house. To the E of this ell, but under the same gable roof is an open porch which now acts as a breezeway between the front and a 1920's room added to the N. This later room is on concrete, is 1 story, and has trabeated oak millwork.

- 43. (cont.) the old town of Elkton and later Otterville. Around c 1860 the dwelling and store were inherited by his son, William (Billy) Homan. (see 0-62 for store biography). William was generally known as the town "grouch". In c 1920, the property was purchased by a Dr. Yancey. Yancey had begun his career as a schoolteacher at the Old Cline School West of Otterville between 1875 and 1885. After receiving his degree in medicine he returned to Otterville and started his medical pratice. Oral history relates that it he who added the rear room in c 1925, for his Doctor's Office. Yancey expanded his pratice to near by Sedalia and gradually put an end to his office in Otterville. Upon his death in 1940, his widow resided in the dwelling until 1958, when it was inherited by her neices, the Heymen Sisters. They inturn sold the property to Mrs. Bernice Whittsit in 1967.

this in 1886 he was elected to the post of State Senator. In 1897, he was appointed by Gov. Lon V. Stephens as Warden of the Missouri State Prison for 4 years. From 1901, until his death he was active as president of the Otterville Bank, commercial interests in the community and in farming.

Upon his death in 1917 the dwelling became the residence of his son H. Rogers Starke, a prominant livestock buyer. The younger Starke, interested in community affairs served the town as city councilman as well as a Board of Education member. Upon his death in 1951, the dwelling was inherited by his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Lee (J. L. ) Castle, who kept it vacent for 2 years prior to selling it to the present owner.

- 42. (cont.) details are gone to remodeling and updating. The fireplace and a boxed stair which lead to the upper SW corner room in the rear ell have been removed. The fireplace and mantle in the SW 1st floor room has been remodeled to a 1920-30's style. The mantle above this room is gone. In the SE, 1st story room is a Federal-Greek Revival mantle with fluted tapered pilasters and dentils in the wide entablature. It is closed up.Above in the 2nd story room is a Greek Revival mantle. A boxed stair in the NW corner of these rooms connect the floors. A door has been cut between the 2 upper rooms.

During the Civil War, Smith had a contract to furnish beef to the Union Army stationed at Otterville and became well known as a cattle buyer. Smith remained his entire life in the residence and his wife (second) continued her residence until 1915, at which time she sold to Thornton Wear. Subsequent owners have been: James A Bone, (1920's), Joseph Martin (1930), L.E. Smith (1932), Lou Hutchinson (1936); Vincil Fry (1941), Frances and Josephine Mock (1952), Eldon Loney (1952). In 1958 Lt.Col. William McKnight purchased his residence.

The Smith-McKnight residence lands were the site of the Pleasent Grove Presbyterian Church and Campmeeting grounds. The Smith blacksmith shop was to the west of the residence.

troop of Confederate Cavalry (Company A, 2nd Missouri), was elected Captain and served under General Nathaniel Forrest. Upon the completion of his military career he returned to his merchantile business and was thus engaged until his retirement in 1892. At the time of his death he was the oldest continuous member of the IOOF in the Sate of Missouri.

Following A. L. Zollingers death the bank came under the direction of J.D. Starke. The younger Zollinger was very civil minded and served as the Otterville Mayor. Johnson described hin in 1919 as "one of the most forceful factors in the general commercial life of the town". Conrad Zollinger became president in 1917.

In 1902 J. H. Gunn was elected assistant cashier of the bank and later president and remained active until his retirement in the 1961. Gunn, active in the Missouri State Historical Society also served as a Missouri State Senator and member of the 1922-23 Missouri Constitutional Convention.

In 1936 the Bank was purchased by the Citizens Bank of Syracuse. In its long history the Otterville Bank has been robbed three times.

The western portion of the building, was originally a grocery store, and was operated by Shoemaker and Lewis from C 1916-c 1920. Following this it was a pool hall. By 1922, this western section was incorporated into the bank facility.

CP-AS 002-620 Postmaster at Pleasant Green. Clifton City was first surveyed by the Katy (MK &T) in 1871, the Katy originally laid out a plat on the Lamine River where the old Corum Mill stood, they named the town Adam, but in September of 1873, Peter N. LaDue came from St. Louis and bought, surveyed the present site of Clifton City. The area had long been know as "the Devil's Half-Acre", where ruffins drank "raw corn whiskey made by neighbors and stories of many fights resulted. One of the more famous "old timers" stories is the day before the Otterville Train Robbery, Frank & Jesse James, visted friends, who they had known from their Civil War days on a farm close to town. In 1875, LaDue sold his first lot to J. E. Potter, a blacksmith. McCarty choose to build his building here because of the closeness to the Katy depot. After the depot was moved away in 1925 and following McCarty's departure from business, the building housed a hardware business well into the late 30's. Though the 40's, 50's and 60's the building remained vacant. In the early 1970's an antique store occupied the building for awhile. The building is vacant at its present owner has no plan for the building.

42. (cont.) and pent porch (E) were gradually altered and enclosed to now form a dining room, kitchen and enclosed porch. A 1 story open pent porch is to the W. The main block sits over a cellar area which has now been concreted. Windows in the house are attenuated, 1-over-1 except in the attic level of the original section where half windows have 6 lights.

43. (cont.) M.K. & T. Railroad crosses the Lamine River on the eastern edge of this property). Cranmer called the place "Clifton". Oral history relates that in early spring a few old timbers can be seen at this site.

In 1875, Bridges began construction of this residence. The original frame work was floated down the river to Boonville. These original "sleepers", 2 X 10's can still be seen under the floor, they are of white pine and the 2" holes drilled in them where they were pinned together to go down the river are clearly visable. From Boonville, Bridges took them home in a horsedrawn wagon, a journey of 2 days. Bridges had served in the War of 1812 as a drummer for the Kentucky Volunteers, he died in 1894 and the residence and farm passed to his two son's 0.J. and J. H. Bridges, who in 1900 removed the original fireplaces and built new ones to serve stoves. By 1911, son 0.J. was the sole owner. In 1922, he did major remodeling addition of a bay window, a basement room, floor furance and porch changes. Following his death in 1942, the farm passed to his son, Oliver H. who in 1946 electricfied the house and added a bath room. Oliver's son Tom, continues the family tradition. by farming in partenship with his father at the present time. In 1976 the Bridges Farm was recognized as a Centennial Fjarm.

until his retirement in 1892. In 1894 he organized the Bank of Otterville, (0-54) and served as its first president. At the time of his death he was the oldest continuous member of the IOOF in the state of Missouri.

In 1918, the residence was inherited by Zollingers son, Conrad, whein 1917 had succeded his father as bank president. The younger Zollinger was very civic minded and served as Mayor of Otterville. Johnson called him in 1919 as "one of the most forceful factors in the general commercial life of the town".

During the 1950's, the dwelling severed as the residence of L. J. Castle followed in the 1960's by the present owner.

42. (cont.) a Queen Anne plan. It has 2-over-2 windows with trabeated headers. Windows in the earlier parts are 6-over-6. Corner boards are capped to form pilasters and to support a raking cornice. Millwork in the house is plain except in the NE room where it is molded and has bull's eye corner motifs. An Eastlake porch now caps the entrance. To the rear is a frame gable ell with two pent additions.

(cont.) 43. of July celebration in 1876. Starke sold the property to George L. Bell and George W. Harlan in 1859. Bell is believed to the responible for the 1st addition being made to the dwelling. By 1866, George W. Harlan purchased the entire interest at a Sheriff's sale. Harlan was a large farmer and attend the Pro-slavery Meeting in Lexington, July 12, 1855 as a delegate from Cooper County. It is believed that it was this dwelling that the Harlan's resided in while their children were being educated in the Otterville schools. Harlan sold the property to Joab Spencer in 1876, who sold it to Monore Crawford in 1877. Crawford had arrived in Otterville in the fall of 1875 from Illinois and opened his undertaking business and a general furniture store. (see 0-49). In 1885, Crawford sold to J.V. Curlin. By 1893 Adam H. Smith had become the owner-resident and is probably responible for the 2nd addition to the structure. From the 1920's to the 1940's, it is unknown who resided in the dwelling. By the 1950's it was the property of Joseph E. Brandenburg, who lived in the house until his death in 1976. The present owner, who purchased in the dwelling in 1976, has plans to tear away the additions and restore the remaining log cabin.

43. (cont.) retirement the business located in this structure became known as Homan's Grocery and operated as such until c 1908. It was then purchased by Charles Hupp,who continued the business until c 1921 because in 1922 the building was listed as vacant. Following a long period of vacency it was purchased and renovated to become the Hayes and Painter Funeral Home. The present owner purchased his business in 1978.

(cont.) by the addition of a room and resold the property to J.O. Stillwell. Stillwell resided in the house for a number of years and it was inherited by his son-Jesse O. After Jesse O.'s death, his widow Maxine resided here until 1967, when the present owner purchased the house. Mrs. Gerhardt and her husband were responsible for the addition of two rooms, which included removal of part of the 3rd room added by Strain and the removal of the log sill in this area. She also notes that most of the roof was still in shakes when they reroofed the house in 1967.

with asphalt shingles, raking cornice and wide entablature. It rest on a field stone foundation which is obscured by rib tin skirting. The double leaf entrances with lintels are portected by a pent proch, covered with tin and supported by square posts. It Photo also has a double leaf screen door. The entrance is flanked by two 1-over-1 windows with lintels.

It is thought that the structure once house a small business. However, the structure is not owned by the adjoining residence and the current owner of that property could not (or would not) give any information on the structure. Tax records could also not be found on the property at the court house.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The structure sits close to Central Street. It is now in a fenced yard with a 1940's type bunglow to the south. No other outbuildings are associated with the structure.

is covered with clapboard. The roof is gable, covered with rib tin, chimney's are straddle the roof line. Windows are 2-over-2 and trabeated. The projecting west gable end was added in 1903 to give the effect of a Queen Anne Cottage. The small flat roofed porch protects an eastlake style entrance.

<sup>4]</sup> History and Summicance Edward Quint moved here in early 1880 and tore down an old log cabin and constructed the rear portion of this structure. He married Anna Francisia Oswald, whose father, Christain George Oswald owned the land. In 1903, Edward added the front section. In 1915, the property is listed as beonging to his wife, Anna. The present owner was born in the structure & resided here activity defined and Outputtings

The house sits at the end of a long lane (.4 of a mile) facing west. A small board & batten chicken house is to the northwest. Other outbuildings are to the northeast.

The two story I-house buildt on a central hall plan rests on a filed stone foundation. It has a gable roof, end chimney and is covered with asphalt shingles. Windows are 2-over-2 with pedminted lintels. On the east is an open porch with turned posts. The millwork in the ell is extremely, while the main block containth Weaded millwork. The single leaf entrance with transom is now unprotected as the proch has been removed.

*3 Mislory and Superlicance The structure wasbuilt by Joe Cole, grandson of Col Stephen Cole, pioneer settler of Cooper County. Col. Cole was killed by indians on the Santa Fe Trail. His son, Mark, also an original settler to this county, originally took the patent on this land. Joe inhirted the property and constructed this dwelling in c1900. He residend in the structure until his death, leaving the property to his daughter, Inez and Celeste who lived in ther (over)

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The house now sits off the gravled county road facing South in a plowed field. To the northeast is a small frame deteriorted outbuilding.

<sup>42</sup> Further Coscription of Important Features The rectangular shaped structure rests on a filed stone foundation. It has a gable roof, covered with rib tin and returns on the gable ends. A Chimney projects from straddle the roofline. Windows are 6-over-6. The two double leaf entrances on the south facade are unprotected. The structure has a towe- with Phone caps on the corners and a sharp steeple covered with rib tin. It is covered with clapboard. On the west , a new ell is a much later addition, rests on a poured concrete foundation, has a gable roof coverd with abestos shingles a single leaf entrance and is covered with asbestos siding.

4) History and Superficance The present building was erected in 1856 and replaced an earlier church building erected in 1839 about ½ mile east of the present structure. This earlier building was of frame construction and approximately 26X40". The pastor at the time was alvin P. Williams who became one of the most eminent Baptist preachers in the state. It was said that if the New Testament were lost, he could reproduce it in correct order from memory. (Over)

<sup>44</sup> Description of Environment and Outbuildings The church sits close to State Highway E facing South. The church cemetery is on the North. No other outbuildings are associated with the structure

43. (cont.) He was an eloquent speaker and became moderator of the Missouri Baptist Association. During Bro. Williams pastorate, a protracted meeting in 1842 added 52 by baptism in one day and 22 more were added the next meeting day.

In 1854, when Bro. Robert H. Harris became pastor, the church voted in favor of building a new meeting house. In Nov. 1855, a committee was appointed to raise subscriptions for this purpose. In Jan 1856, the present site was selected in what was at that time "the east end of Sister Oglesby's land,"and the building committee authorized construction of a building not to exceed 44' X 70'. It was intended to construct the building of brick. A kiln was built, the brick burned and the walls started when they were found to be unfit. These walls were then torn down and the present frame building was erected. A partition through the center section of pews separated the "men's side from the women's side". A balcony was built in the back of the church so that the Negroes could "worship with their masters". The balcony remained until 1885 when it was torn away. The partition remained until the late 1940's when it too, was removed. During an extensive renovation that also included replacing the old wood stoves with gas space heaters, turning the wood room into a nursery, lowering the ceilings and replastering the side walls. A hard wood floor was also laid at this time. In 1958 the gas space heaters were traded in on three floor furnaces.

The first meeting in the new church building was held in August 1857. The church was dedicated the next day. Rev. E.S. Dulin, presidnet of the Baptist Female College of Lexington, MO., preached the dedication sermon. Baptismal services were held for many years in the nearby Petite Saline Creek.

In January 1868, a committee was appointed "to inquire into the propriety of establishing and laying off a burial ground under the control of the church trustees and whether additional ground can be purchased". The necessary ground and deed to same were procured shortly there after.

The brick foundation of the curhch was replaced with stone in 1871. It was voted to use the brick from the old foundation to make a "good and lasting pavement from the gateway to each front door". This work was completed in 1874. Lightning struck the church in 1899 but it was not seriously damaged. In 1914 the steeple was reaired and has been repaired from time to time since then. In 1916 the old organ was sold and a piano was purchased. In 1971, and educational building (the west ell) was constructed and a deep water well drilled. On October 1, 1962, whicle Rev. G. W. Poulos was pastor, the church went to full time preaching for the first time in its history.

In 1963, the church records from 1829 to 1955 were micro-filmed at the Southern Baptist Cinvention in Kansas City, Mo., and a copy was given to the Mid-Western Baptist Theological Seminary.

In 1970-71 a booklet on the history of the church (from which the historical information on this from was extracted) was prepared by a committee incliding Mr. & Mrs. V.K. Betteridge, Mrs. H.E. Cole, and Mrs. C.M. Brumback.

The early history of Mt. Nebo Church dates back to June 3, 1820, when a number of pioneer settlers of Cooper County met in a little log school house one mile north of Buncetion to draw up articles of faith and organize Mt. Nebo Baptist Church. The only names know of these early organizers are Lydia Cornum. Jordan O'Bryan, Nancy and Abraham Woolery, Luke Williams who lived five miles west of Boonville, was called to be the first pastor. He had the distinction of being the first ordained Baptist minister in Cooper County. The first meeting house was built by subscriptions from the settlers. Mt. Nebo Church joined the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Association in the autumn of 1820 when the association met with Concord Church in Cooper County. In 1827 the Mt. Nebo membership divided on the question of paying ministers and sending missionaries among the "heathn nations." The anti-missionary" group becmae "New Mt. Nebo Chruch" which worshipped in shcool houses and homes of members until moving to the location of the 1838 church building described at the beginning of this history.

Note: The cemetery contains the graves of many pioneers to the area including: Samuel Cole, youngest son of Hannah Cole and James Cole, son of Col Stephen Cole. These two men were among the family when they became the first white people to settle on the south side of the Missouri River.

43. (cont.) he inherited the property and married. In 1940, his son-in-law, Rapp and his wife were divorced. Rapp moved from the sturcture for about 6 months, then purchased the structure from his wife. He never returned to live in the structure. It remained abandoned until 1963, when it was pruchased from his estate by the present owner. In 1973, the present owner, modernized the structue, changed location of some interior walls and doors, panneled the walls and constructed a new kitchen. Originally the house had a colsed off section on the rear connected to the kitchen for colored help. This reflects A. J.'s upbringing, his father Anthony J. had been a large slave holder.

43. (cont.) 1895. Cordy became the owner, sometime during this period also. Cordy, was a son of early pioneer William F. Cordy, who arrived in 1830. Both families were from Kentucky. Oral history relates that Cordy was responbile for improving the structure and enlarging the farm to 200 acres. The construction method used in the dwelling is similar to others in Lebanon Township built by other Cordy's. Almost all of these surving structure date from c1840-1880 and are of log and heavy timber construction. Walker Cordy's son, Frank was the next owner and resided here for a short time, he construct a c1920-30 bunglaw style home to the southwest for his residence. The structure has been vacant since that time. The property was purchased by Cole from the heirs of Frank in c1966. Carl Cole is the great grandson of Col Stephen Cole.

<sup>42</sup> Further Cescription of Important Features The large two story frame dwelling was built by Lon V. Wendleton in 1908. It has a gable roof, covered with asphalt shingles and a wide over hang. The roof line has ridge cresting. Gables project to the W,E, and South to form chamfered bays. On the E and W they are filled with jigsaw shingles. A wide layered entablature marks the 2nd floor level. On the NW of the second floor is a screened-in sleeping porch. Windows are Pover-1, and trabeated. A pent porch runs from the chamfered bay on the E to the bay on the S, wrapping 3/4 the way around the front and E facade. It is supported by doric columns. It protects (Over)

<sup>4]</sup> History and Superlicance This 2 story Queen Anne style house, was built in 1908 and has been abandoned and deteriorating since about 1960. Lon V. Wendleton built this house to replace an earlier frame house that used to sit just south of this house was torn down about 1910. W.R. Johnson describes the house and lands as follows in his 1919 History of Cooper County(p.553-554) "The most complete farm plant in the central part of Cooper County is that of Lon V. Wendleton

(Over) The house sits back off State Highway F, .4 of a mile. To the NW are nummerous insignificant outbuildings. P-32 is directly South about 1000 feet.

43. (cont.) in Palestine Township. The Wendleton farm is imporved with a handsome, modern farm residence, large barns, shops and a planing mill so as to make the place independent of outside assistance. The saw mill and planing mill was erected by Mr. Wendleton so as to prepare the lumber, but from the timber on the farm of 543.5 acres, which he is managing. The house consits of ten rooms, finished in oak, cherry, walnut and red elm, all of which was cut, sawed and finished for use on the farm. The planing mill has been in operation since 9115 and has already paid for itself ..... This fine home is lighted by gas, and heated by a hot water heating plant....Mr. Wendleton is owner of 137.5 acres, the rest of the large tract which he is farming being the property of his uncle, Henry Wendleton. Considerable livestock is produced on the Wendleton farms; one carload of thoroughred Shorthorn cattle is fed each year and fattened for the market; from one two carloads of hogs are sold on the market; 60 sheep are maintained the year round. Lon V. Wendleton was born De. 22, 1886, on a farm 3 miles west of his present home. He is a son of David Wendleton. He has resided with his uncle, Henry Wendleton, since he was 10 years of age and has had the management of his uncle's farm for several years. Mr. Wendleton was married Sept. 29, 1908, to Miss Grace Hendrick, who was born in the Indian territory, May 12, 1888 and is a daughter of James P. and Eva (Turner) Hendrick, natives of Missouri.... Henry Wendleton was born in Cooper County in 1854, and was the son of David Wendleton, a native of Holland, who left his native land, came to America and located permanently in Cooper County, Mo. in 1833.

The David Wendleton, mentioned above, who came to Cooper County in 1833 settled on a farm woned by Hiram Cochran north of the present town of Speed, Mo. in Palestine Township. The log cabin he built there is no longer in existence. His son, also named David was born in 1850 and married Sarah J. Lowry in 1877. Their farm was near the original Wendleton farm, but the house he built in the early 1880's is also gone now. It replaced an earlier house dating to pioneer times.

Lone Elm School (P-32) which sits about ½ mile south of the Lon V. Wendleton house, was also constructed by Lon V. Wendleton in 1916 on land he set aside for use by the school.

<sup>42</sup> Further Coscription of important Features The log section is completely enclosed with additions and alterations. Most of the structure rests on a field stone foundation and is covered with clapboard. The rear section (N-S) has a pent roof, one section east-west has a gable it is entirely coverd with rib tin. Windows vary in style and shape, most are 2-over-Phone 2. A chimney projects from roof in the approximately the location of the log room. A pent porch supported by turned post protect two single leaf entrances.

a german immigrant arrived in Cooper County in 1887. He worked as a farm laborer, later rented this land and finally in 1905 purchased the property and constructed part of this house inwhich he lived with his wife, Katrine Groom until his retirement to Speed in 1919. By that time, Gerhardt had increased the farm to 377 acres. It was then run by his son's Emil & Herman (over)

43. (cont.) grand champion mule at the MIssouri State Fair in 1916. Johnson says he is owner of 540 acres of rich Cooper County land, 380 acresof which is comprised in his home place which is improved with a modern residence. By 1925, however, Mr. English lost this house and farm to the Boonville National Bank, and it was rented to various people for a number of years thereafter. In the late 1930's or early 1940's the farm was pruchased by Ernest and Nora (Graves) Anderson, Sr., who resided there until their deaths. In 1950 the farm passed to their son, Ernest M. Anderson, Jr., and his wife, Bernice (nee Siedenburg) who have continued to reside there down to the present. Mrs. Anderson reports that the house has been very little altered over the years (with the exception of enclosing some proches) and still retains its original interior woodwork, stained glass windows, etc. The land on which this house is situated was owned from at least 1874 (and probably earlier) by Martha H. English, widowed mother of H.H. English who came to Cooper County from Virginia c1840 with her sons. No house is indicated on this land on the 1874 plat map; however a house is indicated on the 1877 plat map. It is preseumed that this house was razed when the present house was built. Martha English died in 1897 and the farm passed to her son, Henry H. at that time. H.H. English was born in 1852 and married Kellie Virginai Herderson in 1887. They had 2 children; E. Forrest and Bernardine English. E. Forrest was also a noted horseman and breeded in the county. Bernardine married H.D. Carlos, Jr., a wellknown druggist in Bunceton. Kellie English, their mother was a daughter of Mr. & Mrs. James Newberry Henderson who operated the old "county farm" from c 1870 to 1892.

Just south of the English place (across the gravel road) is the site of the old Abraham Byler log house that was once a regular stopping place of the Boonville to Tipton stage coach. This log house was bulldozed in the 1960's by Earl Carey. The land is now owned by Glen Schlotzhauer.

The Harness family was of Holland Dutch descent. Conrad Harness (1811-1989) was a son of Adam Harness whose father was Peter Harness, a native of Holland who first settled in Pennslvania. Adam Harness was a soldier in the War of 1812.

Conrad Harness was married April 19, 1835, to Ann Tucker, (1817-1897), a daughter of Josephus and Sarah (Hutton) Tucker who were Cooper County Pioneers. In 1841 they left the old Harness home in Virginia and made the long overland trip to Cooper County driving two six-horsen teams. The first home of the family was a two-story log house on a piece of land near the land now under consideration (See P-11). In 1850 they paychased the present piece of land and constructed the house here desribed. Conrad Harness accumulated a large estate of over 600 acres prior to his death in 1898.

The children born to Conrad and Ann (Tucker) Harness were: Jacob T., John Josephus, William T., Henry C., Charles C., George Conrad, Isaac H., Sarah Elizabeth, Edwin B., and Mrs. Henry Crawford.

George Conrad Harness took over the original Conrad Harness homestead (seeP-11) and his brother, Henry C., settled on another nearby farm now owned by Herbert and Dora Heing (see P-30).

<sup>42</sup> Further Coscription of Important Features The rear ell is the earlier construction of the I house. It sits on a field stone foundation has a gable roof, with an end chimney. There is a boxed stair in the SE corner of the West roon. It has Bull eye millwork, wainscotting, and a chairrail on the interior. The large two story section rests on a poured concreteance foundation has a hip roof, covered with asphalt shingles. It has a central chimney. The two entrances, with transoms are protected by a pent porch, supported by tuncan columns. ON THE interior the millwork is plain, however a false eastlake mantel is found in the SW room. (over).

43 History and Supplicance The original section of the structure is believed to have been built by a T. Patterson about c 1875. By 1897 it was the property of B.C. Wells. It was purchased in the early 1900's by Chris Vieth, whose grandfather, Ben Vieth was an early seller in Kelly Township. Chris, erected the large two story section about 1905. His son, Henry followed his ownership about 1930 until the early 1960's, when Fred Helmrich became the (Over)

<sup>44</sup> Description of Environment and Outbuildings The house sits back from an intersection of the county gravel roads that run on the N & E, facing E. The area has just been cleared of large trees and brush and is now part of an open field area. No other outbuildings remain.

43. (cont.) constructed his dwelling. The structure passed to Henry, Jr. in the late 1920's and to his son Clarence in the late 1940's. Clarence continued to make the dwelling his home, until for health reasons he moved to a nursing home in Boonville in 1978. The structure is now vacant and deteriorating.

It is believed that the structure was assoicated with the residence 43 History and Significance of W.H.H. Stephens, before he moved to his "Clover Leaf Stock Farm" in 1880. Stephens married Cordelia Bunce (daughter of Harvey Bunce, of whom the town of Bunceton is named) in 1880. He commed this land and started his farm here. By 1925 it belonged to his granson C.P. Stephens, followed by Marvin Jones in the late 30's and into the 50's. It was purchased by the present owner in the late 1960 44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings 1060

The dwelling sits high on a ridge (S) overlooking the Stephens Brand Creek in an open pasture. It is not accessable by vehicle. A small frame outbuilding is to the SE.

In 1891 they bought this farm (114 acres) and lived in an old log house (possibly built by John Allison in the 1870's) on the place. This house is no longer in existence. In 1901 they built this house, Mr. Niebruegge doing the actual building himself. In c.1926 the house and land were purchased by Herman and Emma (Niebrugge) Siedenburg, and in c.1950, the present owner bought the place from the Siedenburgs.

NOTE: This house is near the Lone Elm store which has been in operation for over 100 years althought the present store building is fairly new. The store has been run for the last 30 years by Arthur Siedenburg (son of Herman and Emma Siedenburg). Prior to that the sotre was operated by Henry Niebrugge, a son of Henry John and Maria Katherina Niebrugge. He took over the store in 1933.

<sup>42</sup> Further Description of important Features The large Vernacular house has Queen Anne detailing. The roof is gable with the chimney straddle. It has a raking cornice and a wide entabluture. The gable ends (E,W) are filled with jigsaw shingles. The 2nd story entrance is unprotected and opens onto a balustrade porch. The 1st story entrance, with an elborate etched class door is protected by and Eastlake style porch with turned posts. It is flanked by extremely attenued windows. Windows in the main block are 1-over-1, in the ell they are generally cover-2, however one 6-over-6 window is visable, all are trabeated. On the interior the wide central has an elobrated millwork and staircase with carved newel. The West room has an (see rew) <sup>43</sup> History and Supulcance This farm is the original homestead of Conrad Harness who came to Cooper County from Virginia in 1841 with his wife Ann(Tucker) Harness and either built or moved into the present house. In 1850, Conrad Harness and his family moved to a nearby piece of land and built a large 1<sup>1/2</sup> story log house (see P-29). George C. Harness ( son of Conrad) was born on the original homestead in 1847 and married Martha Dills in 1872. Martha (Dills) Harness died in 1910 and Nellie kept house for her father until his death. Irving Harness then inherited the place and lived there until his death in the 1960's, at which time it passed to his sister Nellie (Harness) Shirley.

Upon her death the property passed to her son, (the present owner), George Will Shirley. The house has not been lived in since Irving's death in the 1960's and is now in a somewhat deteriorated condition. The farm is presently rented by Paul Rademann, whose land adjoins this property on the east.

<sup>42</sup> Further Coscription of Important Features The school has a gable roof covered with asphalt shingles and has a raking corince. The single leaf entrance has a transom and is unportected. Windows on the N and S are one-over-one and slighty attenuated. The corners form pilasters and the structure is covered with clapboard. It rests on a concrete block foundation. Photo On the interior are the remains of wainscotting and a blackboard around the entire room.

•] Mistory and Superiorance The School was moved to this location in 1960 by Ben N. Smith, Sr. Its original location was at NW ½ of NW ½ of Section 17, T47N,R17W. It was then known as the Palestine School and closed when a larger school was built (c1930) in the community of Speed. The community of Speed was originally called New Palestine.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The school sits close to a county gravled road facing E. against the coal bank which runs through this area. No other outbuildings remain.

42 Further Coscription of Important Features Built on the central half plan with fitanking chimneys with corbelled caps, the roof is gable, covered with asphalt shingles. A galbed dormer projects to the South, over a pent porch, supported by turned post which protects a single leaf Pastlake door. On the West of the rear ell, a porch has been enclosed. The structure is covered with clapboard and rests on a poured concrete foundation. Windows are two-Over-two, have lintels and are trabeated.

4] Mistory and Superficance The structure was built by W. H.H. Stephens, as a wedding gift to his daughter, Laura Virginia Stephens, who married Joesph Hawkins in 1903. Hawkins ownership continued until c1925, when it was purchased by L.M. Stephens (cousin to Laura). In 1936 the residence and farm was rented by Leonard & Kathryn Schmidt, who purchased the property in 1940. In c 1942 they added a kitchen, bathroom and a porch on the West in 1956.

<sup>44</sup> Description of Environment and Outbuildings The house sits high on a ridge off a gravled county road overlooking the coal Bank Creek Valley facing.South. Two new house trailers, one to the SW and one to the SE sit outside the fenced yard. Other outbuildings are to the W and N. A cistern is to the West.

<sup>42</sup> Further Coscription of Important Features The hip roof is covered with asphshingles and has a wide entableture. It rests on a poured concrete foundation and is covered with clapboard. The unprotected entrance has a transom. Windows are 4-over-4, and grouped of 3 on the West and East. Their is an single leaf entrance with transom on the east facade also. APhono chimney projects from the southwest corner.

*] History and Summincance "Independence School" was built c 1910-15. In 1919, it had a daily attendence of 15 and George Chamberlin was the district clerk. The school operated until the mid-1940's. When the County Supertendent of Schools office closed in the late 1950's the records were given to the individual district clerks at that time. Therefore these records are scattered and some have been lost. An effort is being made by the Friends of Historic Boppyille to recover as many of the records as possible for their archives.

Sitting in the bend of a county gravel road, the structure faces south. A small pent shed is to the North. No other outbuildings remain.

- 42 Further Coscruption of important Features The last section of the E-W ell is probably log. It has an end chimney, gable roof and 6-over-6 windows. It measures 12' X18'. The entrance to this section is only by way of entering the middle of the ell on the interior. The next section of the ell is thought to date to the 1870-80 era. It rests on log sill$_notont is very plain on the interior and a later second story to this section was added in 1906, changing the appearence. The large I-house section was added at 1906. It has a central hall and flanking chimney. The roof is gable, which projects to the N,S & East. The projections have returns and a graceful oval window in the peaks. The eave is boxed and (over).
  43 Mistory and Supportience The house, as it presently appears, was constructed by John Maddex for Robert F. Wyan in 1906 incorporating an earlier structure possibly built in two stages in
- c 1850 & c 1880. The back section of the house is reportedly of hand-hewn log under clapboarding. The center section of the house is also reportdly log on the first story, but was probably built later than the back section. The parts of the house built by Maddex (over)

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The dwelling sits at the end of a long lane off Highway 5 facing East in a fenced yard. A frame summer kitchen is to the SW. In the W is the remains of an early concrete water system. To the NE is a frame gable shed covering an earthen cellar. To the SW is a new metal pent farm machine shed.

The front entrances at the 1st and 2nd story level are double leaf, the 2nd story entrance is unprotected, but has a balastrade. The 1st story entrance (which has transom) is protected by a flat roof supported by tusan columns and sit on concrete posts. Decorative fan brackets adorn the top of the columns. On the S, an single entrance has the same treament, however there is no entrance at the 2nd story level. A skirt roofed galley styple porch runs the length of this facade. It protectes a partically enclosed staircase with cannon ball newel and railing, and an single leaf entrance at both levels. On the North facade a porch is upported by turned posts and has an extremely decorative balustrade. The structure is covered with clapboard, painted yellow, with white accents.

43. (cont.) for Yan in 1906 are the entire 2nd story front section and the 2nd story center section. The open side porches on both the N and S facades of the center section were also added at this time. Inscribed on the front porch stoop is the Following: May 26, 1906, J.S. M.

A bathroom was added at the SE corner of the center section in the early 1950's by the present owner. The yellow vinyl siding that covers the entire front and center sections of the house was put on in 1979 by the present owner also.

The present farm consits of 167 acres in Sec. 13, T47N,R18W. The land on which the house is situated ( $E_2^{1}$  of the SW $_2^{1}$  of Sec. 13) was entered from the government in 1824 by Thomas Collins and his wife, Frances. By 1837 Thomas Collins was dead and the land was parcelled up among his wife and 11 children. John F. Collins got the S end of the  $E_2^{1}$  of the SE  $\frac{1}{2}$  of Sec. 13 (location of the present house) in the settlement of his father's estate and in 1853 he sold it to William Norris for 2500.00 The price would seem to indicate that some kind of structure was present at this time.

In 1855 Norris sold the property to John J. Tucker for $3500.00 and in 1879 Tucker sold this land to Thomas C. Rainey for $2,500.00. Later that same year Rainey sold the property to Robert F. Wyan for the same price. The earliest available plat map of Cooper County (1874) shows a structure at the approximate location of the present house. Robert F. Wyan, Who is reponsible for building the house as it presently appears, was a son of Wesley J. Wyan and a granson of the pioneer Booonville merchant, Jacob F. Wyan. Wesley J. was an early merchant in the Bell Air community (probably as early as the 1850's) and his son, Robert F. continued the family business there up to c 1911 when he moved to Bunceton, Mo and erected the Buncton Ice and Electric Plant. Robert F. Wyan's wife was Rosa Callahan who he married in 1894.

In 1911 when Wyan moved to Bunceton, he sold the house and land to Charles P. and Vira A. (Grigsby) Mitzel. Charles's grandfather, Peter Mitzel came to Cooper County from Ohio in 1858 and settled on land near the present town of Pillot Grove, Mo. The present owner, William Ray is a son of Charles. He and his wife, Helen(Sly), live in a new house about ½mile N of the old house. Since 1952 they have rented the old house to Paul and Audrey Lenger. Mrs. W. R. Mitzel is an avid genealogist and is knowledeable about many of the old cemeteries in Cooper County. Mrs. Mitzel, along with several other Cooper Countiesian's published the Cemetery Records of Cooper County in the Spring of 1982.

43 Mislory and Supundicance This old tenant house which is now part of the "Ravenswood Farm" complex was probably built in the late 1890's by either Francis Wadley or C.M. Woolery. From 1907 to 1919 it was owned by Gabrilla Babbitt who resided there and operated a store and barber shop. N.Nelson Leonard brough the proptery in 1919 and from that time to the present it has functioned as a tenant house for Ravenswood Farms. It has been vacant & deteriorating (over)

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The strucuture sits close to the countygravled road. on the West side of Bell Air. The church is to the East (P-20). A later bunglow style dwelling is to the W. (see reverse).

43. (cont.) A third tenant house in this complex at Bell Air sits just east of the Babbitt House. It is a bungalow style house which was moved to this location in the late 1920's-early 1930's by N. Nelson Leonard from its former location in the vicinity of the old rock quarry about 2 miles east of Bell Air. It has also had an erratic history of occupancy and has sat vacant and deterioration for at least 20 years.

42 Further Coscription of Important Features The small 1 story clapboarded structure rests on a cut stone foundation. The roof is gable and a ell projects to the North. It has a wide entroblature and the corners form pilasters. The double leaf entrance, with stained glass transom is enclosed in a 2 story Gothic style tower with balustrade. A round stained glass window accents the lover of the tower on the N,E and S facade. Large Arched stained glass windows adorn the 2 projecting ells and The S facade is flanked by smaller arched stained glass windows.

A) History and Summicance Bell Air Methodist Church was organized in 1850 and the present church building was erected in 1870. The church has served the Bell Air community since that time, though services have become infrequent over the past 10 years. The Leonard family of nearby "Ravenswood Fram: has helped to support and maintain this church for many years. A portion of the present fee to tour the "Ravenswood" mansion is set aside (over)

<sup>44</sup> Description of Environment and Outbuildings The Church sits close to Hwy 5 facing East. On the North is a country gravled road. No other outbuildings remain.

43. (cont). each year for this purpose. The building that formerly served as the church parsonage sits on a hill a few hundred yards south of the church above the old Bell Air Inn. This house, which was built c. 1915 is a Queen Anne Cottage and it served as the parsonage until 1926 when it was deeded back to N. Nelson Leonard who then used it as rental property. From the 1940's into the mid-1970's it was the residence of Boone Baron who worked at "Ravenswood" Farm.

43. (cont.) Lowry, is acknowledge as one of the first settlers of Palestine Township. He arrived cl819 from Tennesse. Mr. Eichleberger says story's from his family tells of the Lowry's living here when they arrived and were quite well known in the area. Note: To the NW app. 1000 yards is the Lowry Burial Plot. Some twenty graves are in the group only marked by field stones. Both Mr. & Mrs. Lowry are buried here. Mr. Eichleberger father was in attendance when Mrs.Lowry was buried beside her husband. Other graves are two of infants belonging to the Lowry's and graves of their slaves.

NOTE: Historian feels that a great deal of addition should be done concerning this property. History is such that it could possibly be the oldest standing sturcture in Cooper County.

43. (cont.) Franklin Favorite Eichelberger was a son of Adam Scott Eichelberger whose original homestead is not far North of here. Franklin bought this land and erected the house about the time of his marriage to Ida Bell Helms (1882-1965). The present owner (Estill Eichelberger) is their son and inherited the property upon their deaths. The house still contains many of their personal belongings. Estill Eichelberger operates the historical museum ("General Museum") at the Rocheport exit off I-70. The gounds around this house are filled with antique farm vehicles and machinery.

CP-AS-002-720

Just East of this house (on the Eichelberger land) is the old Lowre log house built by the pioneer settler of this land, M. Lowrey, at an early date (see P-74).

42 Further Coscription of Important Features The one-story church is clapboarded and rests on a poured concrete foundation. The gable roof is covered with wood shingles, has a raking cornice, and the corners form pilasters. The single leaf entrance is enclosed and tapers to a steeple with a lovered cupola. The windows are rwo-over-1, trabeated and have lintels. Photo The interior is badly deteriorated. It consits of an ante room and a large central room which has wainscotting. No raised platform, pews or other decorations exsits.

*1 Mistory and Summicance The church was built c1917 by a group of local Baptist Black persons. At one time a school associated with the church sat about 100 yards West of the structure. The land originally belonged to Dan Hawkins. The church still legally belongs to the trustees, however it has not been used for some 10 years. The school closed in the early 1940's. A cemerty is to the Southwest about 500 yards.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The church sits at the end of a long ungravled lane (app. ½ mile) facing South. It is now surround by a plowed field.

shingles. A chimney is straddle the roof and has a corbelled cap. It has a boxed eave and a wide entablature. The windows are 2-over-2 and have lintels. The corners form pilasters. The structure is covered with clapboard and rests upon a cut stone foundation. Phone The single leaf entrance and transom is protected by a eastlake porch.

43 History and Symphicance The structure was built by George Bail (c1900) upon his marriage to Mary Muller, daughter of german immigrants, Fredrick & Margaret (Gardner) Muller of Clear Creek Township. George was born in Boonville in 1861. He moved to this farm when 12 years of age with his parents Meirad & Gertude (Stegney) Bail. He tore down the original structure built by his father. His ownership continued until 1944, it then passed to his son, Harry (over)

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The structure sits close to a graveled county road, in a fenched yard, facing north. A large later concrete block milkhouse is to the southeast. A small board & batten shed in the fenced yard is to the south. Four large elm tress are in the front yard.

43 (cont.) erecting a new and larger school to replace the old 1 room school building across the road. (see P22). The present school building was erected soon after and served the area in and around Bell Air up into the early 1940's/ The building sat vacant for several years and then was purchased by Claude Morris who converted it into his residence. He and his family lived here into the mid-1960's at which time it was purchased by "Court" Jobe who lived here up to 1975 when it was pruchased by the present owner for his residence.

CP-AS 002 724 43. (cont.) this house c 15-20 years ago when it became badly deteriorated. In 1910 a barn that used to sit a few hundred yards NE of the house was the scene of the unsolved murder of a Mrs. Maddex, who lived on a nearby farm. The barn is no longer standing. An early drawing of this house appears in the Atlas Map of Cooper County, of 1877 p.76, showing the rear section which is no longer extant.

42. (cont). open balustrade porch is above a round bay on the South at the 2nd story.

43 (cont.) SW of the present house. No traces of this log house now exist. Sometine after his marriage to Margaret Hutchison in the 1830's he began plans for a large frame house on the site of the present house. He completed this frame house in 1850 and it stood until 1869 when it burned. He immediately set about rebuilding the house and soon completed a two story frame structure that was to be the back part of a large frame ell shaped house. But at this death in 1876 the front part had still not been constructed.

When Nathaniel's son, Charles E. Leonard, took over management of the Farm, his wife's father, James M. Nelson (a wealthy banker in Boonville), offered to build them either a house in Boonville or a new house on the farm. They decided to build a brick house on the Farm. The frame house erected by Nathaniel was moved and the basic block of the present house was constructed in 1880. Architect for the house was W. Angelo Powell of St. Joseph, Mo.

The house, as constructed in 1880, was a fairly pure Italianate with a balustraded tower. A secondary influence is the French 2nd Empire style evidence in the modified Mansard roof. Bricks for the house were burned on the farm.

Subsequent addition in 1907, 1908, 1913 and 1914 altered the house to its present form which is an excellent example of Victorian eclecticism.

In 1907-08 the original front proch was replace with a Neo-Classic porch supported by 4 wooden columns. A wrought iron balcony was added at the 2nd story level and the original windows on this 2nd story were altered to French doors for access to the balcony. The tower was also given its present Neo-Gothic charcteristics at this time. A 2 story (plus attic_structure was added at the SE corner of the house. This addition included a morning room and breakfast room on the 1st story, a bedroom and sun porch on the 2nd story, and a water tank storage area in the attic.

In 1913 the NE proch was enclosed to become a storage area and locked pantry. A 2nd story playroom was constructed above the former NE proch; and an arched, enclosed, 2nd story bridge was constructed connecting the playroom and an older summer kitchen.

In 1914 the conservatory (reminiscent of the mood of Edawardian England) with terrace porch and Delco system power plant was added.

All of these additions and alterations were made by N. Nelson Leonard, son of Charles E. Leonard.

In 1910 the frame structure built in 1869 by Nathaniel, burned and was replaced by two brick servant quarter. Other significant outbuildings are the summer kitchen and smoke house, which date from an earlier period. The Tally-Ho barn built by Charles E. Leonar,; the Bull barn also built by Charles E. Leonad, an ornate Mule Barn built by N. Nelson Leonard (replacing an earlier Mule Barn destroyed by fire); and a 2 story frame tenant house.

The floor plan of the house is an elaboration of the typical 19th century configuration of central stairhall and flanking rooms. Bay windows, small service rooms, and additions introduce eccentricities into the plan.

The present furnishings and decor of the house generally reflect the tastes of Nadine (Nelson) Leonard, wife of Charles E. Leonard. There are several early American peices and some more modern furnishings added by Roselia (Willard) Leonar, the present owners mother, but most 43 (cont.) of the house is furnished in the style of the turn of the century. The house consits of some 25 rooms plus a full basement and attic. All but 4 or 5 rooms (the present woners' living quarter) are open to the public for a fee. Guided tours are conducted by the owners.

CP-AS-002-725

The house originally had a hot air furnace in the basement ( a relatively early Missouri example of central heating). This system was replaced with steam heat in 1945 but the steam heat system is not currently operating.

The Leonard family is English in origin. They came to New England cl643 at the request of John Winthrop and the Massachusetts Bay Colony to help establish an iron industry. Their first iron works were erected at Taunton, Massachusetts, and later grew to include iron works at several other locations in that state.

The family participated on both sides during the Revolutionary War, and the father of Ravenswood's founder was a commander of Ft. Niagara during the War of 1812.

Nathaniel Leonar (1799-1876) was the founder of Ravenswood. He came to Missouri in 1824 after working for three years in the American Fur Co. outposts north of Chicago. He came here at the prompting of his brther, Abiel, who had come to Franklin, Mo., in 1819 and later became a prominent Missouri Lawyer *his home, "Oakwood" stillstands in Fayette, MO).

Following Nathaniel's original 80 acre purchase of land in Cooper County in 1825, he went into partnership with James S. Hutchison, a neighboring farmer, and married Hutchison's widowed sister, Margaret, by whom he was to have 6 children.

In the early years of the farm Nathaniel was involved in the then lucrative business of raising and trading mules. In 1839 he made his first purchases of purebred shorthorn cattle ( the first purebred cattle of any breed brought west of the Mississippi) and began to build the herd that was to gain international reown under the guidance of his son, Charles E. Leonard (a leader in financing the American Herd Book of Shorthorn cattle).

Charles E. Leonard (1839-1916) took over management of the farm in the late 186's. In 1872 he married a local beauty, Nadine Nelson (eldest daughter of James M. Nelson). She was born in 1850 and died in 1935. Their only child was N. Nelson Leonard, the present owner's father. He was born in 1876 and died in 1939. Jelson took over management of the farm in the early 1900's In 1909 he married Roselia Willard (Daughter of a wealthy Chicago manaufacturer ) and they had three children. One of these children, Charles W. Leonard, is the present owner of Ravenswood. He is married to Mary Ellen Schlotzhauer by whom he had two sons, only one of Which Charles E. Leonard II survives.

45 Sources of Information Oral History, Mrs. John Young, 4/8/81 History of Cooper County, 1919, pp. 1032-1034. Bicentennial Boonslick History (1876) Property Abstract 46 Preparent by J. Shields/R. Dyer 47 Organization:Friends of Historic Boonville 48 Oate 49 Hevision Date(5) 4/81 cont Byrd Lockhart in 1819. When Hannah Cole died in 1843 at the age of 81 the land passed to Samule Cole who lived on here in an old log cabin (no longer in Existence) until his death in 1886 at the age of 86. The land then passed to two of his children Madison and Mattie Cole, who retained possession until 1899 when it was sold to Rober S. and Gilla Roe who had rented the land a year earlier. During their ownership the farm was know as "Elderwood Farms:.

The Roes originally purchased a 440 acre tract of land which included the Coles 160 acre tract. They Moved into an old farmhouse (no longer inexistence) on another part of the 440 acre tract. In 1905 they sold some 253 acres (that included the old farmhouse) and built the present house on the remaining 188 acres (the old Cole homestead).

Robert S. Roe was born on a pioneer farm in Pilot Grove township on Jan 18, 1858, son of Robert and Frances (Harrelson) Roe, both of whom were representatives of families which had settled here in the early days. Robert Roe, the father (1815-1894) was the son of Samuel (born in Scotland) and Elizabeth (Leith) Roe, who came to Missouri from Virginia in 1825 and located in Cooper County. In 1827, Samuel Roe (1788-1878) entered a tract of land from the government on the site now occupied by the town of Pilot Grove and remained there for the rest of his life. His son, Robert Roe, farmed near Pilot Grove until 1869 when he bought a farm in Palestine township. He retired in 1893 and moved to the town of Pilot Grove where he died in 1894.

Robert Roe's son, Robert S. Roe, who built the house presently under consideration, began farming in 1879 in Pettis County. In 1882 he bought a farm near Speed, Mo. In 1885 he sold that farm and went to Camden County where he stayed until 1890. He returned to Cooper County in that year, went back to Camden Countu in 1893, came back to Cooper Counti in 1898 and purchased the old Cole place a year later.

Robert S. Row was twice married. His first wife was Myrtle C. Wilderson (by whom he had two children). When she died he married Mrs. Gilla C. (Cole) Soloman in 1892 (by whom he had 6 children) Gilla Cole was one of two daughters born to Samuel Cole and his second wife Catherine (Peters) Cole.

When Robert Roe sold the land in 1918 it had only two long term owners from that time unti it was purchased by the present owners in 1951. These two long term owners were Julius A. Stegner, who owned it from 1919 to 1934, and P. H. Gardner, who owned it from 1934 to 1948.

43. (cont.) Weber, who he married in 1843. Shed died in 1875 and he then married Maria (widow of Rev. John Kelle). By his 2nd wife he had one son, George W. Helmre@Wh, Jr.

In 1909 Henry Carl Friedrich purchased the house and land (214 acres) for $16,000 and raised both pure bred Hereford cattle and Duroc Jersey hogs. Henry Carl Friedrich was born in Germany in 1866 and came to this country with his mother and brother (Adam) in 1885 He married Lena Grauer in 1892 and they had 8 sons.

In the 1960's James W. Morton, the present owner, purchased the property from the Friedrich heirs. It has been abandoned and in a deteriorating condition for many years. The front block of the house appears to be of timber frame construcion with brick and stone nogging. There is a small belry on the rear el with an elliptical window beneath it. Oral history relates that the bell which used to be in this tower was generally used to call the family and field hands in from the fields for meals. It is also related that during the Civil War the men would hide from bushwackers and marauders and the women would sound the bell when all was clear.

42 Further Coscription of Important Features The one & half story house rests on a log sill and stone piers. The roof is gable, has a raking cornice and is covered with asbestos shingles. A chimney is on the south end, which served a stove. On the west is a projecting gable with a full size window. The single leaf entrance is unprotected. Windows are 2-over-2 and trabeated. On the east a later pent addition has been added the sidth of the structure. The structure is covered with asbestos siding.

"I History and Summicance" This structue does not reflect upon a plat map until the 1920's. However it is believed to be about 10 years older. It could have possibly been built as a tennant house on the George Chamberlin farm which encompassed this acreage from the 1870's until c 1915. Oral history from the present owner was that he purchased the farm (80acres) from a Henry Jenry in the 1960's. The sturture has been used as storage since that time.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The structure sits close to State HIghway 5 facing west. Four large cedar trees grace the front yard. A new metal machine shed is to the north shingles. It is built on the central hall plan. The eave is boxed, and has a wide entablature. The entrance with side lights is propected by a gable cap, supported by tuscan columns. Windows are 6-over-6 and shuttered. The rear ell, a later addition extending to Puble North, has a gable roof and open eave. This section is greatly altered in a modernizered process.

43 History and Suppresence The main block of this house is the original sturcture. It was probably built c 1900 by Joseph A. Verts who had owned the property since at least 1897. The 1877 plat map indicates a hoise on this property in the approximate location of the present structure but this may have been a different structure. The land at that time is shown as being owned by W. C. Barklea (sic.) He is also shown as the owner of the land on the 1874 map (Over)

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The house sits in a large yard off a gravled county road facing South. Close on the North is a board & batten shed, a small childrens play house is on the E. Other outbuildings are to the NOrth.

43. (cont.) (his name is spelled "Burkelee" on that map). But no house is indicated. Joseph A. Verts retained ownership of the property at least through 1925 and probably into the 19200's at which time it was purchased by Marvin Foster who lived here up to c 1974 when he sold it to the predsnt owners, Mr. & Mrs. Schenck. The Schenck have done major restoration and renovation work on the house (most of the work was done in 1976). They added a living room on the west changed some interior walls and altered the proch. They also totally replastered the walls and added a garage connected to the house by a breezeway.

42 Further Coscription of Important Features The structure has been altered many times, it diffcult to determine the original section. A main block with hip roof appears to have projecting gable sections.Additions to the East and South have changed appearance of the sturcture and detailing is covered by the application of vnyl siding. Windows are 1-over-1 and have limitels. A proch supported with wrought iron posts wraps around the northwest corner of the structure.

Al History and Supplicance It is believed the structure was built originally by R.A. Harriman. Harriman's family were promient farmers and bussinessmen in the area. He resided in Pilot Grove for awhile, but bought the farm about 1910. The structure was purchased by Forest Schlotzhauer in the 1940's. It is presently resided by the current owner, Schlotzhauer's son-in-law, Edward Loesing.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The dwelling sits off the county road facing north, at the end of private lane in a fenced yard. A later gable roofed garage is to the southeast. Other outbuildings are further to the south and southeast.

It rests on stone piers (rear ell section) and poured concrete. Windows are 2-over-2 and trabeated. A chimney is stradle the roof line and one at the end of the ell section. The rear door (in ell section) has a mail slot. The single leaf entrance is protected by a porch with a carpenter style cut out balustrade. The structure is partially clapboard & asbestos siding.

"I History and Superiorance The house has been vacant a number of years. It was probably built by a John Schulout, who ran a general store, which sat across the street (Coal) from the dwelling. Schuloert store burned in the early 40's. He left Speed, the next resident name was also Schuloert, said to have been no relation to the original owner. The present owner purchased the property in the early 1960's.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The structure sets off the county gravel road about 200 feet facing west. It is contured to fit against a hillside. No outbuildings remain & brush and small trees almost completly osbure the structure. About 50 feet to the south is the remains of a stone wall, which runs about 75 feet in a straight line north. 45 Sources of Information Oral history: Deep Widney 42 Further Coscription of important Features The brick building is of common bond construction. The north side of the building has an recessed entrance and transom flanked by store front windows. The south side has a remolded (c1960) divided store window with entrance on the South. It has a transom. The chimney has a elaborate corbelled cap on the south side. On the orear facade the south side has an unprotected entrance with arched header and flanking 1-over-1 windows. The north side has a large arched garage type opening which has been enclosed forming two single leaf entranced and is flanked by a 1-over-1 window with arched header.

41 Mistory and Summicance The Bank of Speed was founded in 1909 and opened this facility in 1910. The building suffered a fire in the late 1930's and when rebuilt, the second story was removed. The Bank was considered to be quite well-off through the 1950's due to the farming in the area. Les Carey, has been President of Facility for over 40 years. In 1980, he sold his interest and in the spring of 1982 the Bank of Speed closed its doors at this location and

43. (cont.) opened a new facility on Highway B South in Boonville named Central Missouri State Bank.

The store portion was a hardware store from 1900 to 1930 run by Fritz Herhardt. In the 1940's, the Bryan Truck Line offices were located here. In the 1950's, the Walje's moved their general store and post office to this location. They remained in operation until c1968. The rear portion (northwest) was at one time used as a livery, and later as a garage.

44. (cont.)and West. What is the Main Street of Speed passes directly in front (east) of the structure.

43. (cont.) Gerhardt never resided in the structure, however his son, Henry Jr., who acquired the property after his fathers death, lived here for a short time in the 1920's. Since that time it was used for the farm workers residence on the Gerhardt Farm. The present owner acquired the propeerty in the 1960's; it has been vacant for about 25 years.

<sup>42</sup> Further Coscruption of Important Features The structure has a log sill and sits upon stone piers. It is covered with vertical boards on 3 sides (one section has clapboard) Windows were 6-over-6 and 4-over-4. The roof joints and rafters have been edged and projected at the 1st story level. The loft are is extremely rough construction and is half timber. There is and end chimney. It was probably constructed one room at a time, a boxed stair is in the northeast corner of the east room and lead to loft area and one in the southwest corner of the west room leads to that loft area. A door way at level connects the two areas. Roof is gable and covered with rib tin.

<sup>4]</sup> History and Summicance Oral history related that the west section was built by a Lawrence Doyle, a black man who had a one time been associated with the Lowry's. Mr. Doyle worked on the area farms. The original section was probably constructed by P.G. B. Chambers, also a black farm laborer, who had worked from Presly Walker (see Lebanon Township forms) and in fact was named after him. The land & structure were purchased by Adam S. Eichleberger in c1910

obsured by brush facing south. A stone cellar is to the northeast. No other outbuildings remain.

northwest room is of . timber construction and contain a large rubble stone fireplace, which now has been enclosed the room by clapboarding on the outside. On the interior of this room, a southwest door is of plank construction as is the floor. The northeast room has provoced stair in the southeast corner, of sown lumber construction and rests on a poured concrete Foundation. The rear addition along the south facade has been completely enclosed. It has a gable roof covered with asphalt shingles. A chimney is at the northwest end and one straddles the center of the gable. It has two entrances which are protected by a flat roof supported by square (OVER)

Oral history relates that the northwest room (location of stone fireplace) was once a log cabin, built by former slaves of J.L. Stephens after c.1865. Their is no hard evidence to back this up, however, rural Cooper County has a history of slaves taking former owners names and farming small tracks of land after the Civil War. Known occupants, all of whom are Negro, are as follows: George Nelson, c1910-1920, Ohe Nelson, 1920-40, Frank Patterson, 1940-55 and the last (OVER)

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The house sits off a country gravel raod facing north, in the Valley of the Monitau Creek which is to the south. A Board and Bulter shed is to the west and another to the east.

42 Further Coscription of important Features The northeast section of the front facade is of heavy timber construction. It has an end chimney and fireplace with plain mantel. The southeast room is of lumber construction as is the central hall. A flat roof porch with turned post protects the entrance which has a 4 panel door. Interior millwork is plain. The roof is gable in main block and later ell which is covered with rib tin and has a chimney straddle the gable. The main block rests on stone pier, while the ell rests on molded concrete block foundation. The entire structure is covered with asphalt shingles.

43 History and Symplecance The structure does not appear on plats until after 1900, however one section of the dwelling is believed older than the date indicates. The dwelling was owned by J.H. Hein in 1915, followed by J.F. Hein in 1920, Walter Hein, 1959. The present owner purchased the property in 1962. The structure has been abanded about 20 years.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The house sits off a county gravel road, facing east. A new metal shed and early mortise and timber gable roof barn is to the north.

42 Further Coscription of Important Features The large two story I-house, with flanking chimney and carbulied caps rests on a quarried stone foundation. It has a hip roof covered with asphalt shingles. Windows are one-over-one and trabeated. Entrance at the 1st and 2nd story lend are protected by an Eastlake porch which has a gable peak filled with fishscale shingles and bracked the lanes. The turned posts have fan brackets. The structure has been covered with asbestor shingles. On the north facade of the rear ell, a porch has been enclosed.

43 Missory and Supplicance It is unknown who built the structure, by 1915 it was owned by Carl Sweeney, followed by Fred and Emily Bosen in the middle 1920's. In 1959, Chris Rasmusen was the owner, followed by Bill Schnell in the late 60's to early 70's. The present owner has rented the dwelling occasionally, but it has remained vacant for about 4 years, he purchased the property c1975.

The house sits off a gravel county road facing east. To the west is a gables roof, board and batten tenant house with stone cellar under the entire structure. A large gambled roof barn is to the southwest. Other outbuildings are to the northwest.

42 Further Cescription of important Features The large dwelling has Bungloid affinities in the main block. However, the rear 2 rooms of the ell are probably an original poartion of an under structure. It rests on stone piers and has a gable roof covered with tin. Windows are two over-two in this section. The main block has a gable roof, covered with asphalt shingles and a rating cornice. Two chimneys straddle the roof line, one has elaborate corbelled caps. Two dormers extend on the South, one a gable peak, the other has a hip roof. The windows are one-over-one, in triplet on the front fascade. The single leaf entrance one on the South and one on the east are protested by a porch which encompass the east and south facades and supported by down column. Some on (over) 41 History and Schullcapee Oral history relates that part of this dwelling (rear section) was built by George Harned in the late 1870's. George gave the lant to his son Edwin, in 1900. Edwin built the residence in 1912. The farm amounted to 230 acres, however he was the leading stockholder in the Bunceton Telephone Company and only lived on the farm in the summer. Upon Harned death, the farm was purchased by the present owner, who resides here year around.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings

The house sits at the end of a long lane in a fenced yard facing south. A large stone (quarried) foundation for a windmill is to the north. A cistern is to the east.

shingles, a raking cornice and the peaks are felled with scoll work and fan brackets. The south and north gable peaks also have fishscale shingles. Windows are slightly truncated and have lintels. The single leaf entrance is protected by a pent roof porch with turned posts. It has been endorsed with plastic. The structure is clap boarded and rests on a ashlar stone foundation.

43 History and Summicance The structure was built by Fred Huecker about 1905. Who remained here until c.1925 when the farm was purchased by William L. Nelson, who did not reside in the structure. In the 1930's it was purchased by George and Theodore Langkop, sons of a early Cooper County Clark Forks Township settler, Fred Langkop. Theodore and his wife resided in the structure until it was sold to Mr. & Mrs. Robert Brandes in the middle 1940's. In the 1950's it was sold to the present owner, who utilizes the structure as rented property.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The house sits back off a county road facing east. The yard is partly fenced. To the east is a larged gambled roof Board and Batten barn. Metal storage silo sits to the northeast. A well is to the south.

42 Further Coscreption of important Features The large I-house has a hip roof covered with asphalt shingles. The eave is boxed with brackets. The corners form pilastries. The single leaf entrances with transoms at the 1st and 2nd story level are protected by a gabled peak Eastlake style porch with turned posts. The peak is fulled with fishscale shingles, has returns and bracketmounder the eave. Windows at the 2nd level are one-over-one and slightly attended with linter. Not story windows are wider, one-over-one and have lintels. The rear ell appears to be older with a quarried stone foundation. The chimney is at the west end of the gable roof. On the north and south of the ell are enclosed pent porches. A small one room gable roof summer kitchen has been attached to the the story related that a part of the rear ell of this dwelling was moved here in the late 1890's from Thomas Wallaces place across the road, for the home of Fred and Louise Roehrs. In 1908 he constructed the large I part of the structure. In 1951 the structure and farm was purchased by Arthur Brandes, whose whife Lydia, was the Roehrs daughter.

44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The house sits at the end of a long lane, facing east. A later gables frame garage is to the southwest. Other outbuilding, including two large rib tin barns sits to the southwest. A concrete cellar entrance is to the south.

42. NOTE: Attsecond floor landing on interior staircase is a later alteration for the purpose of a bathroom. While fixtures are now gone, the walls are painted with a mural done by the Boonville artist, Richard Tonnes. Mr. Toennes painted several murals in homes of the wealthy residents of the area, however, the one in this structure is in the best condition. Mr. Toennes also painted cupids and did the interior of Thespian Hall for the 1901 Stephens Opera House. This mural is well protected at this time and does not appear to be in danger. The mural is signed.

43.

Thomas J. Wallace (1837-1900) was a native of Virginia who came to Cooper County with his father c. 1845. He married Martha S. Cockrell and settled on this farm, which he called "Sugar Tree Farm", sometime prior to the Civil War. He was a highly successful farmer and stock raiser who dealt extensively in mules during the Cival War and later became noted too for breeding horses. He had 4 children: Edgar, Arthur A., Thomas, and Wilbur B. This latter son inherited the farm upon his father's death and operated it as "Ellerslie Stock Farm" until the 1920's when it was sold to Webster L. Clay. From C. 1940 to 1980 it was owned by J.A. Wilson who rented the house and land to a Kopp family for many years. The Kopps moved away c.1955 and the last time the house was lived in was c.1965. The house has been vacant for a number of years, and was bought recently by Howard Senior.
