2 Further Description of Important Features This large brick church is distinguished by its tall spire, fine brickwork and Romanesque details. The spire has a high peak, multi-faceted slate roof, with clocks in the projecting gables on all four sides, and is crowned with a cross. The level of the tower housing the bells has tall, arched, louvered openings and chamfered corners. Windows all have Romanesque-arched heads, many defined with ornamental brick labels. Bands of corbelled brick arches decorate gables, roof lines and other horizontal features. (continued)		Photo (continued)
3 History and Significance Sacred Heart was organized in Valley Park on November 14, 1903, the first example of the effort of Archbishop Glennon to strengthen older country parishes and organize new ones. The mother church was to the east in Manchester. The new parish had thirty-one families of German, Irish and Bohemian descent, and through the opening of St. Louis Plate Glass Company, received many members. (continued)
4 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The parking lot is situated to the east of the church, and commercial buildings behind and to the west. A parsonage/rectory is to the north of the church, near other residential structures to the north. The rectory is a two-story structure with hipped roof and appears to be of the same period and materials.		46. Prepared by Judy Little 47. Sacred Heart Church of Valley Park

42. continued

Dressed white limestone string courses, sills, coping, finials, buttress caps, stairs and foundation further ornament the building. Windows are compositions of arched and circular lights, and the large circular window on the facade is composed of eight small circles around a larger center circle. Above the circular window is a pair of small arched windows, and above that is a marble statue of the Sacred Heart as Savior. The shallow, gabled entry porch has a compound arch entryway, in brick with a pair of limestone columns on each side; a semi-circular transom light is over the double doors, which have round-headed panels. The entry is raised fourteen steps above grade. The ends of the transept are gabled, detailed similarly to the main entry, and contain smaller versions of the front circular window. The side elevations have two-tiered buttresses between the bays, and tall, round-arched, three-part windows. The apse is semi-circular with a slate roof. The main roof is clad in gray asphalt shingle. The raised basement, faced with cut limestone, has an entrances at that level, including a handicapped entrance added about 1980. The church is 135 feet in length and 46 feet wide, broadening to 54 feet at the transept. Estimated seating is 500. The cornerstone has the date September 1, 1907.

The first building, used as a school, teachers' residence and church, opened October 23, 1904, but suffered a fire in 1906. It was continued in use as a school until the new one was built in 1967. Thomas says in 1911 that it was called the First Catholic Church School Building of Valley Park in his time. A cornerstone for the present church was laid by Archbishop Glennon on September 1, 1907, and the building was dedicated by Vicar-General Hoog on July 4, 1908.

The church is the third oldest surviving Catholic church building in St. Louis County and the second oldest which is still being used as a parish church. The Shrine of St. Ferdinand and Sacred Heart Church, both in Florissant, are the others; 1880 and 1883/1893, respectively. The 137-foot spire and high-style architecture make Sacred Heart one of the most prominent visual landmarks in Valley Park.

History and Significance This house sits on lot 10 in Block 58 of Valley Park. Wm. C. Temple sold this tract of land along with several others to the Valley Park Land Co. in Dec. of 1902. No building is shown on this lot when Valley Park was subdivided in 1903. In November of 1904 Frank P. Knabb and his wife Elizabeth bought this tract of land for $700. A house is shown on the lot on the 1909 plat map. Frank P. Knabb is listed in the 1909 directory as a physician in the Trust Bldg. and living on Ann Ave.

They and others are 1-over-1. 43 History and Significance Although this property had been part of several earlier subdivisions, it was still not developed in 1902, when it was transferred by the Brown Estate Company to William G. Temple, the agent for the Valley Park Land Company, which resubdivided the town the following year. In 1904, lots 8 and 9 were purchased by Perry R. Halbach. He apparently built this house, because it is shown in the 1909 county atlas. (continued) 44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings This house sits above the street on a shaded hill.

In 1914 both lots were purchased from Halback by William J. Vance, who was moving here from 336 Benton Street on his departure from the St. Louis Plate Glass Company.

Born in 1854 in Pennsylvania, Vance came to St. Louis in 1903 as manager of the Glass Company. He resigned in 1914 but resumed his affiliation in 1916 and was involved in the company's bankruptcy. His many other business interests included the Valley Park Trust Company and the Meramec Valley Bank. At his death in 1945, this house was appraised as worth $3,500. His son Robert A. Vance, who was in trucking, continued to live here, and in 1987 he and his wife Margaret formed the Vance Family Trust for the maintenance of the house.

MR. AND MRS. W. J. VANCE

W. J. VANCE.

Among the public-spirited citizens of St. Louis County whose personal efforts have contributed so largely to the commercial and industrial greatness of this section, few support a record which surpasses or is even comparable with that which justly belongs to W. J. Vance of Valley Park.

Mr. Vance was born March 1, 1854, in Upland, Delaware County, Pennsylvania. He is possessed of a good education and in addition to this is a thorough business man, as has been proven by the successful manner in which he has handled different enterprises with which, he has been connected. In 1903 he organized the Valley Park Trust Company, of which he was president until April, 1917, when he disposed of his stock. He assisted in organizing the Meramec Valley Bank in January, 1918, of which he is now vice-president and cashier, and his son, Harry E., is assistant cashier. He has been president of the Valley Park Lumber Company since its organization in 1914.

Mr. Vance came to St. Louis in 1903 and was made manager and treasurer of the St. Louis Plate Glass Company, and filled this position until 1914, when he resigned. In 1916 he again assumed charge of the concern and served in that capacity until February, 1917, when it was sold to the Missouri Plate Glass Company. The latter company failed in October of that year and Mr. Vance was appointed receiver, serving as such until February, 1918, when the business was taken in charge by the trustees. Under Mr. Vance's management the St. Louis Plate Glass Company prospered and was one of the leading industries in this section of the country, constituting the major part of the industrial life of Valley Park.

The marriage of Mr. Vance to Mary Bopp occurred December 23, 1880. They have been born four sons and four daughters, all of whom have been highly educated. Mrs. Vance is a native of Pennsylvania, was born April 20, 1860, at Bessemer.

Mr. Vance and family reside in a handsome home at Valley Park and are among the most highly esteemed residents of the county. Mr. Vance also owns some farm land and is interested in many important enterprises in the conduct of which he actively participates.

MAPLEWOOD LAUNDRY.

Maplewood Laundry, 7315-17-Manchester avenue, one of the best and best patronized concerns of its kind in St. Louis County, is and business colleges of St. Louis. After leaving school he engaged in the copperplate engraving trade, which he worked at for six years, and for the firm of Scharf Bros., of which his father was a partner. At the age of 22 years he took a similar position as bookkeeper with the Koken Barber Supply Co., and remained there ten years. In 1892 he went to Kansas City and worked in the same line of business. He went back to the Koken people in 1893, and some time later entered the real estate business, remaining thus occupied for six years. In 1911 he entered the employ of the Maplewood Laundry Co. as a bookkeeper, and in 1919 was made treasurer of the company.

Charles H. Fieldson was born near Clayton, in St. Louis County, on September 18, 1883. He was educated the St. Louis County Court from the First District, whose death occurred February 9, 1920, leaves behind a private and public record which will ever stand out in glowing tribute to his memory. He was one of the most efficient and economical officials ever placed in charge of county affairs. His sudden end terminated a career in which were interwoven personal and public achievements which attest a character of the most honest and energetic type—a personality pleasing and dependable—a man who had the confidence of the people and a capacity to fulfill the trust with which he was honored.

Judge Buermann was born October 13, 1858, in Ballwin, Mo., in the vicinity of which place he attended school and began his industrial career. Selecting as his occupation the in the public schools, and began his industrial career as a clerk. He entered the employ of the Maplewood Laundry Co. in 1904, and filled various positions with that concern, and was promoted to the position of general manager of that company in 1919. He is a member of the Modern Woodmen, and a staunch Republican.

The marriage of Charles H. Fieldson and Miss Florence Hay Gregory took place December 13, 1906. Mr. and Mrs. Fieldson have become the parents of one son, Charles M., born October 28, 1910, and one daughter, Kathryn E., born November 4, 1907.

County Judge William Buermann, four times elected associate justice of

CHARLES H. FIELDSON

FREDERICK C. CLAMORS.

Frederick C. Clamors, Dougherty Ferry road, Kirkwood, rural route 13, actively engaged in the cultivation of the old Clamors Homestead farm, was born July 28, 1864, at the place on which he now resides. He is a son of Johann Frederick and Marie E. (Bleck) Clamors, both natives of Hanover, Germany, the former coming to this country in 1845 and the latter in 1847. The father was born September 29, 1827, and settled in St. Louis County on an 80-acre tract of land on Dougherty Ferry road, purchased by his parents upon their arrival here. He took possession of the farm in 1851 and during August of the same year was married to Marie E. Bleck, who was born September 23, 1834, and with her parents first located in North St. Louis. Johann Frederick Clamors later acquired 40 acres adjoining the old homestead and a 50-acre farm near Manchester, which is now being cultivated by Edward, a brother of Frederick C. The parental father died in March, 1908. Mr. and Mrs. Johann Frederick Clamors became the parents of thirteen children. Those living are: Mrs. Henry Lindemann, Frederick C., Mrs. Edward Schmidt, Mrs. Christ Bopp and Edward W. Both he and his wife, even in their advanced years, were active members of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Des Peres.

Frederick C. Clamors was educated in the district schools, and until taking over the homestead acreage assisted his father on the farm. He began his independent career in 1888, and on May 17th of the same year was married to Sabine K. Bopp, a daughter of Sebastian Bopp of Des Peres. To them five children were born, in order as follows: Matilda L. Trog, March 23, 1889; Frederick Sebastian, August 11, 1890; John Edward, November 8, 1893; Louis Henry, November 23, 1897; Elmer Henry, November 19, 1905. Besides owning the homestead farm, Fred C. also owns an 80-acre tract near Ballas and Clayton roads.

Like his father, Frederick C. Clamors is a strong and active worker for the Republican party. The religious belief of his parents is also followed, being exemplified in his connection with the St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Des Peres, of which he is a trustee. He is also a member of the Law and Order Society of Des Peres.

The marriage of Mr. Buermann to Miss Dorothy Koehler took place November 19, 1882. She is a daughter of Leonard Koehler. Mr. and Mrs. Buermann became the parents of three children: August L., born March 29, 1884 (died February 23, 1915); William L., born October 18, 1886, and Leonard, born July 24, 1889 (died February 13, 1912).

store on the opposite corner, which he has improved and enlarged, now carrying a very good stock of general merchandise.

On the 1st of February, 1893, Mr. Branneky was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Kleemann, of St. Louis county, a daughter of Frederick Kleemann. Four children have been born of this union: Edna, Walter, Oliver and Henry.

The family attend the Lutheran church, of which the parents are members. Ever since attaining his majority Mr. Branneky has given his political support to the candidates of the republican party, considering that the principles of that organization are best adapted to subserve the interests of the majority. In 1897 he was appointed postmaster at Pattonville, which office he has ever since held. He is one of the progressive and enterprising citizens of the community, as well as one of the most successful merchants, and has many friends who accord him the esteem he well merits.

WILLIAM J. VANCE.

Various corporate interests have felt the stimulus and are benefiting by the corporation and practical methods of William J. Vance, now well known as a representative business man of the city and county of St. Louis. He was born at Upland, Delaware county, Pennsylvania, March 1, 1854, and completed his education by graduation from the Sharon Academy, of Sharon, Wisconsin, with the class of 1874. His early business training was received with the Carnegie Steel Company, with which he was connected from 1876 until 1899, at their Edgar Thompson Works in Braddock, Pennsylvania. In the latter year he became connected with the Monongahela Light and Power Company, with which he continued until 1902, having charge of the consolidation of the various electric light companies in the Monongahela valley, adjacent to Pittsburg. In 1903 he took charge of various industries at Valley Park, Missouri, and is now active in the management and control of the interests of the St. Louis Plate Glass Company, the Valley Park Land Company, the Valley Park Electric Company, the Valley Park Water Company and the Pacific Glass Sand Company. He is also president of the Valley Park Trust Company and is thus associated with the financial as well as the industrial and commercial interests of the county. His ability to coordinate forces into a harmonious whole, his practical judgment and his keen discrimination are dominant factors in the success which is attending his efforts.

PIERRE M. BROSSARD, M. D.

Dr. Pierre M. Brossard, secretary of the St. Louis County Medical Society, is one of the successful practitioners of Maplewood. He opened an office at Maplewood immediately after graduating from the medical college and has built up a reputation which is evidence of conscientious application and acknowledged skill in his profession.

He is a native of Fenton, Missouri, and was born October 27, 1879, a son of Dr. Peter and Cornelia W. (Tising) Brossard, the former of whom was born at St. Etienne, France, and the latter at Cincinnati, Ohio. The grandfather on the paternal side was also named Peter Brossard. He was a carriage designer by trade and many years ago emigrated with his family from France to America, locating in Jefferson county, Missouri. The father of our subject was a staunch supporter of the Union at the time of the Civil war and enlisted in the army, but was taken sick and incapacitated from serving in the field, alas well as offering undertaking services. The central building of the present complex is likely the same one shown in an old photo. The property was taken over by the St. Louis Boat and Canoe Co. in the 1930's.

SARGENT AND SCHOLL

Robert Sargent and George Scholl operated a coal, wood and ice business along with a livery and undertaking service. When an undertaker was needed, Sargent and Scholl sent two men to the home for the body. It was wrapped in a sheet and placed in a long wicker-basket which had carrying handles on each side. After embalming, the body was returned to the family home and was laid out in the parlor where the wake was held. Family and friends visited the home and sometimes kept an all night vigil. Visitors brought food for the family as well as consolation and companionship. The wake lasted three days. On the day of the funeral, a horse drawn hearse arrived at the house. The black hearse had a large oval glass window on each side and black fringe trimmed the roof.

The funeral service was held in one of the four churches in town. The Catholics attended the new Sacred Heart Church, Methodists attended the new Scruggs Memorial Methodist Church, Episcopalians attended their church, and the blacks attended the First Baptist Church. After the service, the funeral continued on to the cemetery.

The most widely used cemeteries were the Oak Hill Cemetery, the Burns Cemetery, the cemetery known today as St. Paul's, and the cemetery in Valley Park. This last cemetery is a little known pioneer cemetery which is identified as such in a land transfer title of 1808. This cemetery was given by a later land owner "one acre, to be equally divided as one-half acre to the Catholic Church and one-half acre to the Protestant Churches for a burial ground."

Valley Park Land Co. The Deed ensured that the Colonial Security Company would not, within five years, build any building except of "brick or stone, not less than two stories in height and not less than 60 ft. deep and of good material and substantial construction."

In 1907 Charles Wolf established Wolf's Department Store, which took over the Timmermann store a year later. It eventually became the largest department store in St. Louis County. Charles Wolf was a native of St. Louis, born in 1868. He worked as a traveling salesman before starting this business, and died in 1915, leaving a widow and four children who took over the business. The first telephone switchboard was located in this building and it has since been know as the Telephone Building. A photo of the building printed in the 1920 county history shows a large gable roof above the present cornice.

Further Description of Important Features Additions and alterations to this residence are extensive. A square tower with a flat roof is on the west side of the building. The front and left side have hipped dormers, each with one window and side lights. Bay windows are on the front and east side of the house. All windows are double hung and one-over-one. A pair of chimneys rise offset left and offset right up through the house. A bracketed hood shelters the front centered entrance.
History and Significance Wm. C. Temple of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, acting as an agent for a group of men who were to establish a glass factory and new town, brought land from G. H. Timmerman and his wife Mary. One parcel sold for $23,500 on 8/4/1902 and other sold for $16,000 on 4/17/1902. Wm. Temple and his wife transferred all the land Mr. Temple had been buying to the Valley Park Land Co. for $1 and other valuable considerations in 1902. Between 1902 and Description of Environment and Outbuildings Building sits adjacent to City Hall grounds. The bulk of the main house sits at SE corner of Benton and Fourth but subsequent additions continue N to Vest Avenue.

1903, a stately house with an enclosed wraparound porch was built for Mr. W. J. Vance by the St. Louis Plate Glass Company. Mr. Vance was the vice president and treasurer of the group of Pittsburg capitalists who organized to create the St. Louis Plate Glass Company which was located in Valley Park. Mr. Vance took charge of the glass plant in January, 1903. In later years the Vance House was used as a nursing home and then as apartments. A two-story outbuilding, which appears in an old photo of the house no longer exists. This house is very significant in the history of Valley Park, even though it has been unsympathetically altered.

Vance was born in 1854 in Upland, Pennsylvania. He came to St. Louis to manage the glass factory, but he also organized the Valley Park Trust Company, of which he was president until 1917. He subsequently organized the Meramec Valley Bank, and he also served as president of the Valley Park Lumber Company, organized in 1914. Vance resigned from the glass company in 1914 but resumed his position in 1916, serving until February 1917, when the company was sold. After the new owners went bankrupt that October, Vance was appointed receiver and served until replaced by trustees in 1918.

The lower part of Valley Park was laid out in 1903 by the Valley Park Land Company, which was organized for the purpose of creating a company town for the St. Louis Plate Glass Company. Many residences were built by the company for rent to employees. Most remained in the possession of the company even after its first bankruptcy in 1917 until the final liquidation in 1925. The initial plat map of the town in 1903 shows houses on many of the lots. It is not clear whether the houses shown were already under construction or merely contemplated, but all of the company houses now standing can be located on the map. They were also depicted in the county atlas of 1909. The residences were of varying sizes, ranging from substantial to minimal. Nearly all of them have been altered over the years, primarily by alteration of front porches and application of siding. Many have also endured the periodic floods Valley Park has suffered, the worst of which was 1982. Nevertheless, several blocks of the town retain their characteristic streetscapes, giving Valley Park a unique appearance in this region.

2 Further Description of Important Features This style of house has a deeply recessed entry facing front on the left side of the building at the end of a one-bay porch. A similar back porch is on the same side of the house behind a two-story wing. The second story of the front wing is slightly angled, almost like a high mansard roof, but with a cornice and frieze across the front. On the second floor three narrow windows are joined into a shallow oriel. Panels above the windows have diaper or latticework patterns. (continued)
3 History and Significance The angular and textured houses contrast with the cubical houses more characteristic of the company houses in Valley Park. Number 628 West Avenue is probably the best preserved of all company houses in the town. The houses at 432 and 438 Benton are larger than the others, with brick first floors and shingled second floors. (see attached)

12. Further Description of Important Features Each of these narrow houses has been altered, typically by application of siding -- aluminum, vinyl, asphalt or asbestos -- and by enclosure, replacement or removal of the entrance porch. These houses have front-facing gables with two-bay facades. The front door tends to be in the left bay in the houses on Benton, in the right on Marshall. Houses on Marshall are also more widely spaced. Apparently houses originally had hip-roofed front porches extending across both bays.
13 History and Significance Boxed cornices extend about a foot from front wall planes. (see attached)

The lower part of Valley Park was laid out in 1903 by the Valley Park Land Company, which was organized for the purpose of creating a company town for the St. Louis Plate Glass Company. Many residences were built by the company for rent to employees. Most remained in the possession of the company even after its first bankruptcy in 1917 until the final liquidation in 1925. The initial plat map of the town in 1903 shows houses on many of the lots. It is not clear whether the houses shown were already under construction or merely contemplated, but all of the company houses now standing can be located on the map. They were also depicted in the county atlas of 1909. The residences were of varying sizes, ranging from substantial to minimal. Nearly all of them have been altered over the years, primarily by alteration of front porches and application of siding. Many have also endured the periodic floods Valley Park has suffered, the worst of which was 1982. Nevertheless, several blocks of the town retain their characteristic streetscapes, giving Valley Park a unique appearance in this region.

The peaked roofs above the center two bays have two small double-hung windows under a common shaped lintel, but as far as is known these windows lighted only attics. Many have been covered over. Windows are predominantly 1-over-1, but many 2-over-1 and 2-over-2 windows are also seen. Porches were apparently varied between two-bay gabled and four-bay hipped and shed roofs. Most of the porch roofs survive while the posts and railings have been replaced. Many houses have one-story shed-roof additions at the rear.

42 Further Description of Important Features Story-and-a-half shot-gun brick house with hipped gable roof. Two brick gable dormers are on the south side of the building and one brick gable dormer is on the north side. All windows are segmentally arched. Except for the dormer windows, smaller replacement windows have been added, resulting in fill pieces being added to the top of the windows. The first floor windows are framed by small, nonfunctional shutters. A stringcourse across the front of the building (continued)		Photo
43 History and Significance This is one of three house built facing the old Frisco Station on the old Meramec Pacific Railroad Subdivision laid out in 1866. The land had been purchased by Friedrich Buschmann by 1878, when his name appears in the county atlas, and the following year he sold to Gerhardt Timmermann. Timmermann must have built the houses about the same time the Frisco Hotel was built, because all face the new line (cont'd)

All three houses were included in the property sold by G. Timmermann to William Temple, the agent of the Valley Park Land Company, in 1902, and all appear on the plat of Valley Park filed the next year. This house remained the property of the corporation until 1922 when it was sold by Universal Glass to William and Mary Swantner. It was sold in 1937 to Serafino Cuchetti, and it remains in the Cuchetti family today.

The lower part of Valley Park was laid out in 1903 by the Valley Park Land Company, which was organized for the purpose of creating a company town for the St. Louis Plate Glass Company. Many residences were built by the company for rent to employees. Most remained in the possession of the company even after its first bankruptcy in 1917 until the final liquidation in 1925. The initial plat map of the town in 1903 shows houses on many of the lots. It is not clear whether the houses shown were already under construction or merely contemplated, but all of the company houses now standing can be located on the map. They were also depicted in the county atlas of 1909. The residences were of varying sizes, ranging from substantial to minimal. Nearly all of them have been altered over the years, primarily by alteration of front porches and application of siding. Many have also endured the periodic floods Valley Park has suffered, the worst of which was 1982. Nevertheless, several blocks of the town retain their characteristic streetscapes, giving Valley Park a unique appearance in this region.

The lower part of Valley Park was laid out in 1903 by the Valley Park Land Company, which was organized for the purpose of creating a company town for the St. Louis Plate Glass Company. Many residences were built by the company for rent to employees. Most remained in the possession of the company even after its first bankruptcy in 1917 until the final liquidation in 1925. The initial plat map of the town in 1903 shows houses on many of the lots. It is not clear whether the houses shown were already under construction or merely contemplated, but all of the company houses now standing can be located on the map. They were also depicted in the county atlas of 1909. The residences were of varying sizes, ranging from substantial to minimal. Nearly all of them have been altered over the years, primarily by alteration of front porches and application of siding. Many have also endured the periodic floods Valley Park has suffered, the worst of which was 1982. Nevertheless, several blocks of the town retain their characteristic streetscapes, giving Valley Park a unique appearance in this region.

Nellie Donnewald House
15 Lookout Avenue

42. continued

A box oriel with a hip roof is just inside the entry. Large hipped dormers on the front and side of the house have paired 9-over-9 windows. The roof shingles are the old-fashioned diamond-placed squares.

43. continued

1909 county directory shows three Donnewalds reported as living at #6 Lookout Avenue, which must be this house: A.J., a salesman; J.B., millinery; and L.B., teller at the Valley Park Trust Company.

The front windows, which are grouped in pairs, are 6-over-1. The center front of the building is decorated with a shield design.		Photo
43 History and Significance This house was originally owned by Frank Susek and wife, Czechoslovakian immigrants. Susek bought lot 18 in this block in 1922 and added lots 11, 12, 19, 20 and 21 in succeeding months. After Mrs. Susek's death, Susek transferred title to this and other property to his daughter Rose, the wife of William Maresh, in 1937. Susek continued to live here, and he died in 1945. The property was later owned by William and Louise Maresh, who moved to Florida in 1976.

Further Description of Important Features The original arched brick-work, doorways and windows are identifiable even though the doorways and windows have been completely infilled with brick. The "Gem Theater" stencil is still visible on the side of the building. The roof is vaulted. The front facade has a terra cotta-topped parapet. The header course of bricks over the front windows appears to be of the newer infill bricks.		Photo
History and Significance This building sits on lot 6 of Blk 1. There is no building shown on the 1903 or 1909 plat map. The 1909 county directory lists the Gem theater, Moving Picture, Carey & Mockobey, 3rd & Benton. The proprietors, Carey and Mockobey must have lived at 3rd and Benton. The Valley Pk. Land Co. sold lot 6 to Joseph T. Fritsche in 1913 for $600 and lot 7 to Valley Park Distillery in 1916 for $300. It is probable that the building was built in 1909 on lot 6. This was later called the Park Theater. The building and the		5 Other Name(s) Reichhold Chemical, 369 Marshall Ave.

12. Further Description of Important Features Each of these narrow houses has been altered, typically by application of siding -- aluminum, vinyl, asphalt or asbestos -- and by enclosure, replacement or removal of the entrance porch. These houses have front-facing gables with two-bay facades. The front door tends to be in the left bay in the houses on Benton, in the right on Marshall. Houses on Marshall are also more widely spaced. Apparently houses originally had hip-roofed front porches extending across both bays.				5 Other Name(s) Two Bay Frame Company Houses

The lower part of Valley Park was laid out in 1903 by the Valley Park Land Company, which was organized for the purpose of creating a company town for the St. Louis Plate Glass Company. Many residences were built by the company for rent to employees. Most remained in the possession of the company even after its first bankruptcy in 1917 until the final liquidation in 1925. The initial plat map of the town in 1903 shows houses on many of the lots. It is not clear whether the houses shown were already under construction or merely contemplated, but all of the company houses now standing can be located on the map. They were also depicted in the county atlas of 1909. The residences were of varying sizes, ranging from substantial to minimal. Nearly all of them have been altered over the years, primarily by alteration of front porches and application of siding. Many have also endured the periodic floods Valley Park has suffered, the worst of which was 1982. Nevertheless, several blocks of the town retain their characteristic streetscapes, giving Valley Park a unique appearance in this region.

Other houses have been refaced with aluminum, vinyl, asphalt or asbestos siding, some more than once. Some of these houses appear to be single family, while others are duplexes. Most of the duplexes are along Marshall. They have two doors in the center bays, while the others have only one. (continued)

The peaked roofs above the center two bays have two small double-hung windows under a common shaped lintel, but as far as is known these windows lighted only attics. Many have been covered over. Windows are predominantly 1-over-1, but many 2-over-1 and 2-over-2 windows are also seen. Porches were apparently varied between two-bay gabled and four-bay hipped and shed roofs. Most of the porch roofs survive while the posts and railings have been replaced. Many houses have one-story shed-roof additions at the rear.

42 Further Description of Important Features The Valley Park Elevator consists of two buildings connected by a one-story scale pit shelter measuring 17 feet by 13 feet 6 inches. Toward Marshall is the hardware store, in technical parlance the "working house," while closer to the tracks is the grain elevator itself, called "the bin." According to the county tax assessor's records the elevator measures 50x28. Its gable roof is topped by a gable-roofed cupola or "penthouse" 25x15. (continued)		Photo
43 History and Significance John Freivalds, in his 1976 book, Grain Trade (Stein & Day), called grain elevators "sentinels of the prairie." "Grain elevators," he said, "are located in almost every farm community and often compete with the local church steeple as the highest structure." Nowhere is this image of elevator and steeple more true than in Valley Park, which has the last surviving grain elevator in St. Louis County. (cont'd)
44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings Highway 141 has been rerouted to within a few inches of the west face of the building, and one corner has been cut at an angle to accommodate the road, which is lined with a tall chain fence. The main entry to the property is now via Marshall Road, where parking is available in front (continued)		45 Sources of Information Watchman-Advocate, History of St. Louis County (1920) p. 93. The lower roof is 49 feet high, and the penthouse raises the total height of the building to 62 feet. Across the east end is an eight-foot shed. The elevator has three small horizontal windows at first-floor height at the west end and another at the top of the gable, while the cupola has several larger windows. The corrugated metal cladding of the building is painted with a large sign advertising Purina Chows, with the typical checkerboard border, recently repainted.

The working house was altered a few years ago as the result of the reconstruction of Meramec Station Road as Missouri Route 141. The shed-roof enclosed porch that enlarged the sales area of the hardware store was demolished and the northwest corner of the gable-roofed sales area was cut back at an oblique angle, eliminating part of the scalloped bargeboard. The remaining surface was covered with a vertical-patterned plywood sheeting, left unpainted. At the same time, the 10x38 foot shed along the south side of the building was enlarged to create a new entry for the hardware store. It too is a porch construction. The older "XL" Valley Park Elevator sign over the second-floor windows of the main elevation on the Marshall Avenue side was left in place. This includes a gable-roofed projection in the right bay that includes a 6-over-6 window. To the east of the main working house is a one-story wing with a brick east wall rising to a stepped gable.

Southeast of the main complex is a long gable-roofed storage building also clad in metal sheeting. It has several garage doors opening toward the main building.

Nationwide about 15,000 elevators still exist, but most are of the concrete variety, more recent than the Valley Park example.

The land on which the elevator stands was part of the Meramec and Pacific Railroad Subdivision laid out in 1866. According to Louis Scharf, whose History of Saint Louis County was published in 1883, the first mill here, called the Meramec Mill, was built in 1874 by Gerhardt H. Timmerman, "with two run of stones, one for flour and one for corn. It was both a custom and a merchant mill, and another run of stones was soon added." This mill must have been located on Lot 14, because Timmerman acquired lots 15 and 16 only in 1879 from Frederick and Louise Buschmann (St. Louis County Recorder of Deeds, Book 7, page 145) and lots 12 and 13 in 1880 from Conde and Clemence Benoist (11, 106). Pitzman's 1878 atlas shows a substantial complex of buildings on lots 11 through 14 but mistakenly credits the ownership of the whole tract to Fredrick Buschmann.

Timmerman and his wife Mary sold Lots 11 through 14 later in 1880 to Charles F. Leonhardt for $6,000 (13, 410). The deed specifically includes the flour mill and engines, machinery fixtures, buildings and steam pump but does not include the merchandise and wagon & team "used in connection with said mill." Just a year later Leonhardt and his wife Justine Caroline sold to Henry B. Eggers and Henry B. Peters, "composing the firm of Eggers & Co. of St. Louis" for $2,500 (15, 448). Scharf says that Leonhardt had added another run of stones for grinding wheat, but judging from the sale price, a substantial part of the value of the property had been lost. According to Scharf, also, Eggers added seven sets of rollers for the manufacture of roller flour. "The machinery is driven by an engine of eighty horse-power, and the daily capacity of the mill is two hundred barrels of flour. It is wholly a merchant mill. A cooperage is attached to it, and eighteen hands are employed at the establishment. An elevator is in process of construction, and this, when completed, will have a capacity of thirty thousand bushels."

By 1883, Henry Biedenstien was able to acquire the same property from Henry and Rosa Eggers for only $250 (23, 68). He retained it until 1889, but apparently didn't do anything with it, because when he sold it back to Gerhardt Timmerman, the price was only $350 (41,201).

Timmerman held the property until the time that the new company town of Valley Park was laid out, and he must have been responsible for rebuilding the facilities substantially. He sold this tract, with some adjacent property, in 1902 to William Temple, the agent of the Valley Park Land Company, for $23,500 (138. 21). This high price suggests but does not prove that the present elevator was built during Timmerman's ownership. The date of 1895 that has traditionally been assigned to the elevator cannot be substantiated by the evidence at hand.

William Temple sold virtually the whole city to the Valley Park Land Company later in 1902 (140, 14-29). Part of the site of the elevator was acquired from the Land Company in 1904 by John W. and Elizabeth Miller of Kenosha, Wisconsin (154, 98). They sold it later that year to the newly formed Valley Park Milling, Lumber and Mining Company (155, 5 & 6). The chief investor in the new company was James T. Dougine of New York City. The company's intent was to build a mill "for the purpose of grinding wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye and all other grains and cereals." The new company paid $20,000 for the 20-foot frontage extending 326 feet back along the tracks (154, 98), then paid another $2,000 for a five-foot strip along the south edge of the property (162, 41). Less than a year later, however, they sold the property for only $8,000 to Orin F. Pearson (162, 42). This suggests that most of the buildings had been damaged or destroyed again. Pearson soon organized his own milling company, the

Valley Park Grain Elevator

43. continued

Pearson Milling Company (170, 6). In 1907 it changed its name to the Valley Park Milling Company (208, 6). In 1914 another 43.56 feet of frontage on Meramec Station Road was added to the existing property (408, 436), but in 1920 the company, then headed by J. P. Eckert, sold out to the Eggers Milling Company (488, 30). This firm had been established by H. B. Eggers in Hermann, Gasconade County, Missouri, after he left Valley Park. The company was organized in 1882, according to the Watchman-Advocate, but it was incorporated in 1894 (501, 466).

A picture of the elevator appears in the Watchman-Advocate newspaper's History of St. Louis County in 1920, looking much as it did until recently. The Eggers company retained the name Valley Park Milling Company for this facility and manufactured its brands of flour, "Eggers Perfection," "Eggers Imperial," "Good Luck," "Eggers Best," and "Daily Bread." It also sold hay, corn, oats, seeds, bran, shorts, ground barley, chicken feeds and dairy feeds. Charles F. Eggers, the son of H. B. Eggers, born 1883, managed the Valley Park branch, having come from the Company's roller mills in Grafton, North Dakota.

In spite of this optimistic report, the Eggers Milling Company sold most of their Valley Park property the next year to the Valley Park Cooperative Elevator Association, which was newly organized for this purpose (502, 147; 505, 20; 598, 259). The company issued $50,000 worth of stock, of which William Hauhart of Valley Park bought the lion's share. He was also on the board of directors, which also included Henry Hoffmann, John L. Boland, Henry Harwood, Ed Jacobs, Louis Dependahl, and William Ruck. The new association continued to operate the elevator through the twenties.

42. Further Description of Important Features This house is nearly identical in its original form to 14, 16 and 18 Front Street, except that it's main entry is on the side. It has paved single-pane windows under the hipped gable end and underlined by a corbelled stringcourse. Other windows are 1-over-1. First floor windows have flat lintels, while the windows in the two gabled brick dormers are segmentally arched. The lower two-bay wing to the rear has a shed-roof porch on the south side. A much larger, newer gabled storage building is attached to the rear of the house.
43 History and Significance County atlases show Gerhardt Timmermann owning this land between the 1880's and 1910. He owned the lots facing front street from the 1880's to 1902 and built the houses at 14, 16 and 18 Front Street which are nearly identical to this house, so presumably he built this house too.
44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings This lot is very deep in relation to frontage, extending 170 feet to the west.

Full height, fluted pilasters frame the front door and also outline the sides of the entrance bay. A second pair of one-story pilasters also frame the front door. The double door entry is topped by a segmental arch and inscribed panel. The right wing has two bays and the left has five bays. All the windows are in banks of three and have terra cotta lintels and sills. One set of windows on the left side has been bricked up. A tile frieze circles the building just below the roof line.
43 History and Significance The Valley Park School District began as a rural school, designated District 5, Township 44 Range 5. In 1908 it was reorganized as a village district and in 1910 became the Valley Park Consolidated District. Since the high school was built on this site in 1937, the site has grown to encompass all the services of the Valley Park school system.

The roof of the oriel ties into the larger porch roof which begins over the door and extends beyond the corner and more than two bays down the north side of the house. The porch has a boxed cornice and frieze and tapered posts with capitals. The wooden balustrade has square balusters. The windows have flat surrounds and are 1-over-1. A gabled dormer is on the north roof, while a brick chimney rises in front.
43 History and Significance This property was part of a large tract owned by the Milks family and sold in 1902. It was platted by the Valley Park Land Company in 1903. These three lots were sold in 1910 to Christina D. Brooks, and the house was probably built a short time later. Christina also had a part interest in lot 4 next door (517 Meramec Station Road), while her sister Elsie L. Brooks purchased lot 5 (521 Meramec Station Road).

The gables themselves are decorated with fishscale shingles. Diamond shingles in contrasting colors form large diamonds to the sides and above the gable windows, and pierced scalloped ornaments close the gable apexes. The entry porch is in the angle of the wings. It has a hipped roof and recently rebuilt woodwork, including square posts, railing with (continued)		Photo
43 History and Significance This lot and the one immediately south of Guylyn Place are the SW corner of the old Survey 1970 originally granted to John Hensley. It was sold by Kate and Louis (or Lewis) Milks in 1902 for $650 to Charles B. Fischer, and he probably built the house at that time. The house is shown in the 1909 county atlas, at which time it was owned by the Valley Park Land Company. It had been purchased in 1903 by the (continued)

Land Company from Charles B. and Minnie C. Fischer, a short time after the rest of the companies holdings had been platted as "Valley Park." The tract was still owned by the Company in 1917 so must have been leased for many years. In later years it also changed hands many times. County directories report the following: 1938, Fred Palmer; 1940, William J. Stuart; 1949, Elvin Dunn.

Further Description of Important Features		The foundation blocks of this church are rock-faced molded concrete typical of c. 1905 to 1925. The windows are 2-over-2. The main entrance is up seven steps through the base of a short tower. The tower has a pyramidal roof with a flared base. Rectangular openings in the tower have louvered shutters or grills. A gable roof on plain brackets shelters the semicircular top of the entry door. The windows as seen from inside are leaded glass tinted in pastel shades with (continued)		Photo
History and Significance		Lutheran Services were first held in Valley Park in 1910. The Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church was formally organized in 1912. The contracting firm of Henry Seibel and Sons from nearby Manchester was contracted on June 14, 1913. The cornerstone was laid a month later, and the dedication was November 9. Church in Maplewood, and several later pastors also had other duties. The parsonage was completed on the lot north of the church in 1930. It was built by the Bush Contracting Company for $4,400. A basement was dug under the church in 1942 by members of the congregation. Parking was expanded to the south and east of the church through a series of purchases of lots in 1948, 1960, and 1974. The church was remodeled in 1955 by William Greenwald & Sons of Kirkwood, extending the chancel to the east. The Educational Building was started in 1963 and completed in 1964 to designs of Charles Dunn and Alvah Johnson, members of Zion.

A similar lintel tops paired windows to right of chimney. This window also has a slightly raised roof above it, rising above the main cornice line. Windows are 1-over-1 and include several paired windows on the side elevation.		Photo
43. History and Significance		This house stands out in the context of Valley Park for its period styling. It stands on land purchased in 1929 by Lawrence J. and Mary Rose Weggenmann from Julie Eberwein of St. Louis. Since the Weggenmanns did not take out a mortgage, it is likely that they did not build the house right away. The county assessor estimates the date of construction as 1935. According to county directories, the Weggenmanns were here at least until 1950.		5 Other Name(s)

42. Further Description of Important Features Complex massing of this Queen Anne house includes the entry under a lean-to roof descending from inside slope of cross-gable roof. Porch thus created has brick corner column and returns with a stubby shaft on a tall plinth. Street-side gable ends have first floor bay windows with small shed roofs. Rear one-story wing appears to be an addition. Windows are of various types, mostly double-hung. Brick chimney protrudes rear the center of the roof.		43 History and Significance This house was definitely standing by 1903, when it appears on the plat of Valley Park by the Valley Park Land Company, but its actual date of construction is less clear. In the 1880's it was part of a tract of over 160 acres owned by William M. Page, who did not live in St. Louis County. He entered into a lease agreement for the tract in 1897 with Lewis L. Milks. Milks was a Kirkwood farmer (born 1861) (continued)		44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings whose parents Henry B. and Anna Milks had laid out Milks Addition to Meramec in 1870. Lewis married Katie Baldwin in 1885. The lease calls for James Thomas Page and Thomas George Page (possibly sons of Thomas M.) to work in the vegetable garden of the farm, and for Milks to provide for their support. The lease also mentions that it is for the benefit of Susan P. Baldwin, who presumably was related to Katie Milk. Apparently this lease served as a legal transfer, because Milks was able to sell the tract in 1902 to William Temple, the agent of the Valley Park Land Company. Presumably this house was built during the brief time that Milks owned the property. It was acquired from the Valley Park Land Company in 1904 for $1,400 by John Burton, who apparently died a short time later. In 1906, Arthur and Annie Burton of Kokomo, Indiana (son and daughter-in-law of Burton?) relinquished their interest in the property to Anna Burton, presumably the widow or daughter of John Burton.

43 History and Significance Although the current deed to this property refers to it as being in Lot 21 of the Quinette Subdivision, it is actually in lots 46 and 47. The lot was sold for $550 in 1905 by Louis and Sophia Kurth, who owned several other properties in Quinette and Valley Park, to William A. Koons. According to the local historical society Koons was a dentist and a descendant of a pioneer Valley Park family. (continued)		610 Meramec Station Road front windows, which have sixteen-paned upper sashes. The center window on the south side is a glass oriel on brackets, with a shingled hip roof. The ground drops to the south and rear of the lot, permitting a ground-level basement entry. This entry and the bay above it appear to be an addition, having a concrete block foundation. A large modern deck has been added at the rear, with latticework underneath, and a trellis overhead.

The house is shown in the 1909 county atlas. Clara Price sold in 1947 to Michael S. and Mary Byrd. August and Bernice Dennis bought it in 1960 and renovated it in 1978 for their daughter and son-in-law Janine and David C. Helfrich.

43 History and Significance Lots 21 and 22 were purchased from Oliver Quinette soon after the subdivision was laid out in 1866 by George E. Haskell, who died the next year. The lots remained the property of his estate until 1893, when they were sold to Olivia Schlueter for $600. When Oliver Quinette amended his subdivision in 1870, however, he indicated a house on this lot and the name "Mary Welling." (continued)

"Mary Welling" House

43. continued

Mary Welling may have been a tenant, or she may have been a child of George E. Haskell. In any case, the core of this house probably dates back to that period. The Haskell estate sold Lots 21 and 22 to Olivia Schlueter in 1893 for $600, but when she and her husband sold the property two years later, they received $2000, so the second house on the property, now 646 Meramec Station Road, was probably built at that time.

The buyer was Charles A. Wagner, who sold to Samuel M. Ross, Jr., in 1901 for $2400, and Rose sold the following year for $2800 to George D. Waterall. Waterall sold only year later for $2950 to Franklin P. Ready, and Ready sold in 1906 to Vincent and Katherine Friedrich, who are shown as the owners in the 1909 county atlas.

The house at 646 Meramec Station Road was sold in 1920 to Joseph L. Friedrich for $1600. The Friedrich family owned 632 Meramec Station Road until 1952, when Dorothy Friedrich sold it to August and Bernice Dennis.

42 Further Description of Important Features This two-story house from the 19th-century has a later hip-roofed porch over the entrance and south front bay, and turning the corner around the south side. This porch has Tuscan Doric columns and boxed gable. The rear wing has cantilevered balconies on both sides; they are of recent construction, probably replacing columned verandahs, because they are sheltered by the broadly overhanging roof. Windows are 8-over-8 and have nonfunctional shutters. The south gable end has a circular vent.		Photo
43 History and Significance When Oliver Quinette revised his 1866 subdivision in 1870, he showed a house already standing on lot 20, with the name N.J. Sarazien attached. By 1880, both lots 10 and 20 were owned by Gustav and Barbara Pape. They sold in 1889 to Frederick Sanders. Sanders died in 1899, and at that time the two lots had only one house on them, described as a four-room brick house, with stable, haybarn and outbuildings. John O. Sturdy House

42. continued

That description fits the house at 647 Meramec Station Road next door rather than this one.

When this house was extensively remodeled by Betty and Michael Halker after they purchased it in 1972, they found a log house incorporated into this one. Due to its deterioration, the log structure had to be dismantled; the logs were reused as a fence at the rear of the house. This log structure must have been one of the original outbuildings, incorporated into this house when it was built between 1899 and 1909 by Augusta ("Gussie") and John O. Sturdy. They were the daughter and son-in-law of Frederick Sanders, and had married in 1888. The two adjacent properties, or what remained of them, were finally separated in 1910, when the Sturdys gave up 1.974 acres and Margaret Sanders, the widow of Frederick, and their daughter Margaret De Foe (Augusta's younger sister) gave up 1.489 acres.

This house is said to have been a showplace during its occupancy by the Sturdys. John Sturdy died in 1930, and Augusta sold the property in 1938 to William H. Brockman. It was renovated by the Halkers after a vacancy of several years.

to Olivia Schlueter for $600. The house was sold in 1895 by Bernard and Olivia Schlueter to Charles A. Wagner for $2,000, so the Schlueters probably built this house; they seem to have built several other houses that they subsequently sold. Wagner sold to Samuel A. Ross, Jr. in 1901 for $2400, and Ross sold the following year to George D. Waterall for $2800. Waterall sold in 1903 to Franklin P. Ready for $2950, and Ready sold in 1906 to Vincent and Katherine Friedrich for $2250. It was Friedrich who started dividing up the property into its present lots. This part went to Joseph L. Friedrich, a brother or son, in 1920, for $1600.

Unfortunately, from the foregoing information it is impossible to determine the age of this house. It was definitely standing by 1909 when it was shown in the county atlas, and by 1926, when a deed from Vincent Friedrich (175, 257) refers to this property "sold to Joseph Friedrich which he lives in." Since the Schlueters are known to have built houses for rent on other parts of their property it is likely that they also built this one.

42. Further Description of Important Features Southwest corner bays of the house form a tower with a flared pyramidal roof. The rest of the main roof is cross-gabled, with a first-floor shed roof portion to the rear. The front door is sheltered by a gabled porch with turned posts, gingerbread spandrels, and square balusters. To the south side a second entrance is at a higher level. It is sheltered by an aluminum awning and opens onto a modern deck of treated wood with bulky railing. Windows to the left (continued)				Photo
43 History and Significance Peter and Sophia Hubbell bought Lots 8 and 9 of Quinette Subdivision from Oliver Quinette himself in 1869. By 1888 Peter Hubbell was living in Starkville, Colorado, and Sophia Hubbell in Leavenworth, Kansas. They then sold the lots to Bernard and Olivia Schlueter. The Schlueters owned considerable land on both sides of Meramec Station Road here, but this house was apparently their own residence. (cont'd) of the front door are paired under a shaped lintel. The broader single (1-over-1) window above the door has a similar window, and all three have non-fitting shutters. Other windows around the house have simpler frames. A small gable window is in the front face of the tower. The front gable has an ornamental framework spanning the space between the bargeboards.
44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings The ground drops very steeply behind the house, requiring a parking area almost on the road to the south of the house.

Its date is not known, but it is presumably around 1890. Olivia Schlueter died in 1890. This house was inherited by her daughters. Helen and Vera, who lived here at least until 1959, when Vera died. By then her closest relatives were two cousins, Hakon and Ingeborg Schlueter, in Cologne, Germany, and most of Vera's remaining estate went to her friends Anthony and Mathilda Schumacher.

43 History and Significance This is part of a lot that Peter Hubbell bought from Oliver Quinette in 1869 and sold to Bernard and Olivia Schluter in 1880. The Schluters lived at 695 Meramec Station Road. Olivia Schluter sold this lot in 1907 to Elizabeth Julie Marcus for $3350, a large amount even for 2.4 acres. This suggests that the Schluters had built the house earlier. It is shown in the 1909 county directory. Elizabeth Marcus (continued)

Large windows are 1-over-1; a first floor bay window on the south side has a low hip roof. Shutters are modern. Second-floor windows touch broad cornice. Hip-roofed dormers rise from south and west faces of the roof. A brick chimney is situated next to the south door. To the left of the door is a square window placed on end to create a diamond.		5 Other Name(s) 809 Meramec Station Road
17. History and Significance		Hartje's Subdivision is lot 61 of the older Quinette Subdivision. It was laid out in 1903 by George N. Hartje, Sr., and his wife Mary. They sold lots E and F to Wilhelmina K. Warner in 1905. When she and her husband Arthur sold part of the land back to Hartje in 1911, the price was $6,000.00, so the house must have been built by then. It is shown in the 1909 county atlas. The property went back to Wilhelmina Warner in 1914, and she and her husband sold it again in 1917 to Emma C. Nelson.
18. Description of Environment and Outbuildings		A board-and-batten gable-roofed garage is at the rear of the property. This lot marks a transition between the residential and retail portions of Meramec Station Road.

on his property, the antecedent of the present Treecourt Pool. Although this house may have been built as early as 1910, the county assessor's office estimates its date as 1924. After Baumhoff's wife Clara died, he left the Valley Park property in trust to his daughters, Isabelle and Mabel, with "complete control and management of the swimming pools now located on the land." At the time of his death in 1941, Mabel was living at Greenwood Hospital in Greenwood South Carolina. More recent owners of this house include Ronald E. and Geneva Warren, Bradford P. and Joy C. Wilson (1969), Ronald D. and Lois A. Jacober (he is a well-known local sports announcer), and John and Karen Hoad. John Hoad is the current head of the St. Louis Ethical Society.

Narrower lancet windows flank the entry and line the Fourth Street side. The east side has a large three-point window similar to one over the front door but deeper. This side is composed as a large cross gable, with the right side extended downward to take in a double entry at ground level. A square tower rises from this corner.
3 History and Significance The Valley Park Land Company donated the land for this church, which was originally named The Scruggs Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church-South in honor of one of the founders of Scruggs, Vandervoort and Barney department store, who helped to finance it. After his death the church became Scruggs Memorial. The flood of 1915 impeded growth of the town and of the church. The basement was inserted under the (contd) church, raising its height, in 1938. At the time of the church's 50th anniversary in 1954, the front steps were rebuilt, and the lower basement entrance was created. Five and a half acres were acquired in 1960 at 436 Meramec Station Road, and this building was sold to the Meramec Valley Baptist Church. A new Valley Park Methodist Church was finally dedicated in 1971. The Baptists rededicated the present building on November 26, 1961, and were admitted to the Baptist Association in 1962. The congregation was originally a mission of Kirkwood Baptist Church. The flood of 1982 put water four feet deep in the main auditorium, but that damage too has been repaired.

		42. Further Description of Important Features This group of houses is constructed of buff or orange brick. They have 1-over-1 windows (for the most part) under segmental arches. Some examples have narrow paired windows upstairs. Old photos show that some of these houses originally had ornamental dormers over the center bay, but these have gone. Most have one-bay entry porches with pedimented gables supported on classically detailed columns. The house at 43 Benton has a full-width (continued) 43. History and Significance (see attached) 44. The lower part of Valley Park was laid out in 1903 by the Valley Park Land Company, which was organized for the purpose of creating a company town for the St. Louis Plate Glass Company. Many residences were built by the company for rent to employees. Most remained in the possession of the company even after its first bankruptcy in 1917 until the final liquidation in 1925. The initial plat map of the town in 1903 shows houses on many of the lots. It is not clear whether the houses shown were already under construction or merely contemplated, but all of the company houses now standing can be located on the map. They were also depicted in the county atlas of 1909. The residences were of varying sizes, ranging from substantial to minimal. Nearly all of them have been altered over the years, primarily by alteration of front porches and application of siding. Many have also endured the periodic floods Valley Park has suffered, the worst of which was 1982. Nevertheless, several blocks of the town retain their characteristic streetscapes, giving Valley Park a unique appearance in this region.

42 Further Description of Important Features This style of house has a deeply recessed entry facing front on the left side of the building at the end of a one-bay porch. A similar back porch is on the same side of the house behind a two-story wing. The second story of the front wing is slightly angled, almost like a high mansard roof, but with a cornice and frieze across the front. On the second floor three narrow windows are joined into a shallow oriel. Panels above the windows have diaper or latticework patterns. (continued) 43 History and Significance The angular and textured houses contrast with the cubical houses more characteristic of the company houses in Valley Park. Number 628 Vest Avenue is probably the best preserved of all company houses in the town. The houses at 432 and 438 Benton are larger than the others, with brick first floors and shingled second floors. (see attached) 44 Description of Environment and Outbuildings
